

World Powers Agree To Abolish Extra-Territorial Rights In China

HIROHITO IS MADE REGENT OF JAPAN

TOKIO, Nov. 25.—Crown Prince Hirohito has been designated regent of Japan.

Designation of Crown Prince Hirohito as regent of Japan follows reports which have been in circulation for about a year that Emperor Yoshihito was in bad physical condition. A dispatch to a Honolulu newspaper in May of last year reported that he had suffered a mental and physical breakdown.

Early last month a rumor that he was dead circulated in Tokyo and the imperial household, in denying it at that time, stated that he was so ill it was feared that he could not recover. The emperor's physical and mental condition had become aggravated, it was said, and the difficulty he had experienced in walking and holding conversation had been augmented, while his memory and capacity for attention had declined.

There were signs that he had been suffering from a severe disease of the brain, the imperial household stated, and it was recalled that he was seriously ill during his infancy and that his mother had re-occurred after he had attacked him. Since his accession in 1915, a gradual weakening in mind and body had been noted, said the official statement, which concluded by saying that the growing volume of domestic and international business was placing an increased demand upon his time.

Yoshihito became emperor upon the death of his father, the Emperor Meiji, on July 30, 1912. The formal coronation, however, did not occur until November 10, 1915. He was born at Kyoto, August 31, 1879, and was married in 1900 to Princess Sadako, daughter of Prince Kaji.

There are three other children of the imperial pair besides Prince Hirohito.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The announcement from Tokyo of the designation of Hirohito as regent of Japan was expected in Japanese circles here as the recent tour of the crown prince to Europe generally was understood to have been the first step in the court arrangement to give Hirohito the conduct of the empire because of the continued illness of the emperor. This tour, which was quite extensive, was arranged in order that before taking up the duties of the regent, the young crown prince would have an opportunity to study foreign lands and foreign customs.

The regent, who is only 20 years old, has already accomplished a great deal in establishing a more liberal understanding between the imperial court and the people of the empire. He has abandoned the ancient idea of imperial inflexibility and in striking contrast to the earlier days when Japanese were not supposed to gaze upon their emperor, Hirohito has recently appeared at various public meetings.

Japanese here assert that the responsibility of having the Japanese imperial family emerge from the olden days to the present liberal movement towards the court is, however, in the hands of Viscount Makino, minister of the imperial household, who was one of Japan's delegates at the Versailles conference. Viscount Makino has been him the task of meeting the wishes of modern Japan with its democratic tendencies without offending the old court nobles.

France Is Aroused By Curzon

PARIS, November 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The French government is deeply aroused over the warning given to France by Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs, in his address in London yesterday and his criticism of the French policy at the Washington armament conference. It was explained in official circles today, however, that France regards Arthur J. Balfour as Great Britain's official representative at the Washington conference and that his and not Lord Curzon's opinion would be accepted as that of the British government.

CURZON'S ADDRESS STIRS NEWSPAPERS IN LONDON; FRENCH POSITION ASSAILED

LONDON, November 25.—Foreign Minister Curzon's remarkable address yesterday, in which he declared that if France pursued an isolated and individual policy she would not in the long run injure Germany and would fail to protect herself, draws characteristic comment from the morning newspapers. The editorial writers maintain the attitudes which they have consistently followed as regards the French military policy, the section of opinion which sees in France a militaristic revengeful spirit upholding Lord Curzon, and those who are constantly distrustful of Germany commenting adversely on his utterances.

While Lord Curzon's address was directed primarily to the Washington armament conference, it was clearly an intimation to France of the effect of that country's attitude toward disarmament as voiced at Washington by Premier Briand.

The Daily Chronicle, which is close to the government, printed an editorial yesterday somewhat along the lines of Lord Curzon's speech. It makes no comment this morning.

The Daily News says that the foreign minister's grave utterance is entirely true.

On the other hand, the newspapers which have consistently favored the French attitude are displeased. The Times says the speech is remarkable less for what was said than what was not said, and implies that "it was a defense and apology rather than a clear statement of constructive policy."

Although the Daily Mail makes no comment, its attitude is revealed by the publication of messages interchanged by its editor and H. G. Wells, who is writing special dispatches at Washington for the newspaper. In his message, the editor accuses, Mr. Wells of taking an attitude against the French in his articles on the conference, and says that if he is unable to adopt a more reasonable tone, the Daily Mail will cease publishing his dispatches.

The Morning Post charges Lord Curzon with "venting his spleen on an ally," and thereby inviting dangerous retorts.

Cripples Storm Surgeon's Hospital For Free Clinics

His Hands, Worth Millions, To Work Free For The Poor

NEW YORK, November 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Cripples—in wheel chairs, in automobiles and on crutches—stormed the hospital for joint diseases today, when Dr. Adolph Lorenz, famous Austrian surgeon, held the first of a series of clinics for the city's deformed. So great was the congestion that hospital authorities found it necessary to summon police reserves to handle the crowd.

The first patient arrived long before dawn, working his painful way up the hospital steps on twisted hands and knees, and crawling inside for a warm place to wait until the noted healer could see him.

An hour before the towering, gray bearded surgeon arrived, more than 200 persons had taken their places in line—mothers and fathers supporting thin, twisted children, adults with distorted limbs and backs, leaning on the arms of friends or hobbling alone as best they could. Automobiles and wheel chairs lined the street outside.

Dr. Lorenz performed one operation to rectify a condition of knock-knee in a 19 year old boy, chiseling through the bone and re-setting it, then encasing the patient from shoulders to feet in a plaster cast.

Following the operation, which was watched by scores of American surgeons, Dr. Lorenz proceeded swiftly from room to room, where other patients had been sent to await examination, prescribing treatments for some of the sufferers and making appointments for operations in other cases.

He examined about 100 applicants. The others, estimated by hospital authorities, to number nearly one thousand, were told they would have to come back for later clinics.

Almost destitute himself as a result of the war, Dr. Lorenz is holding free clinics here, and will hold them in other cities, as a testimonial for the aid rendered by America to Austria's starving children.

He declared he could not even have come to America but for the intervention of friends who made the trip financially possible.

DR. ADOLF LORENZ AND HIS MIRACLE WORKING HANDS

BY EDWARD THIERRY
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The most wonderful hands in the world belong to Dr. Adolph Lorenz. With them he can work greater miracles than the greatest pianist, sculptor or artist. These can only add pleasure to life.

But Lorenz's hands are worth millions. They can restore the crippled and the deformed to full health. He is the Vienna doctor who years ago cured Louis Armour of a hip affliction.

Lorenz, who's 60, has spent his life curing crippled children whom other surgeons gave up as hopeless. He's in America to continue this work—he will treat poor children free in order, he says, to repay America for food relief to Austrian children. A tall figure, long white whiskers, thin white hair, twinkling blue eyes—that's Lorenz.

"Hands up!" he smiled and held up his hands. "That means friendliness—and it's also a display of my wares. These hands are my tools—my instruments of painless surgery."

"Yes, they're strong. And in all these years they've acquired a little skill, perhaps. You see no muscles standing out but the sinews are there!"

"My hands are just as strong today as when I was here 18 years ago. They must keep strong—they have much important work to do for humanity."

"I'm sorry my son couldn't come with me. He's doing the same work. We both use our hands, but sometimes the knife. He'll take my place eventually."

Lorenz's skill is so great that he can name any fee he wants—and get it. But—"I never ask a fee from the poor—never!" he says.

Parents with crippled children need not come to New York to see Lorenz. He'll show them all Christmas. Then he'll go to Chicago. And he'll visit smaller cities around Chicago.

Lorenz speaks English. He doesn't surround himself with secretaries and liveried servants. Everybody—especially the poor—can reach him without red tape.

BRIAND TAKES SHARP ISSUE WITH CURZON

Girl Tries To Smuggle Gun To Brother

COLUMBUS, O., November 25.—Josephine Gilletti was placed under arrest here today charged with having attempted to smuggle a loaded revolver to her brother, Sam Purpera, who is in the death cell at the Ohio penitentiary awaiting electrocution on February 10 for his participation in the Sly-Panner pay roll robbery and murders at Cleveland.

The sister, penitentiary officials announced today, succeeded in smuggling the revolver into the cell of one of the prisoners yesterday. This prisoner was expected to get it to Purpera. Instead he turned the gun over to Warden Thomas. The girl's arrest followed. Prison officials presume that Purpera expected to make a dash for liberty or end his life with the revolver.

Several relatives visited Purpera this morning, holding a long conversation with the young Italian through the screen which surrounds his cell. The sister suddenly excused herself and walked around the end of the cell block to a cell on the opposite side. There, she entered a cell and placed the gun, wrapped in a cloth and placed in a paper, on the bed. The convict shortly thereafter, delivered the gun to the warden.

As the party of visitors was being ushered out of the institution, the sister was taken in charge by Warden Thomas and a guard, who took her to the Columbus city prison, where charges of carrying concealed weapons and attempting to assist a prisoner to escape, were placed against her.

NEW YORK, November 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Briand, of France, took sharp issue with Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister, today on that part of the latter's speech in London yesterday in which he intimated France had "stolen a march" on her allies by entering into a separate agreement with the Turkish Nationalist government.

The agreement was drafted and signed in London, after France had given notice to her allies that she intended to effect "a special agreement for the settlement of our private affairs," M. Briand asserted in a statement issued just before he sailed for France on the steamship Paris.

The statement follows: "First, it is not a treaty; it is an agreement between the Angora government and us for the settlement of special questions concerning the frontier of Syria and Cilicia, the exchange of prisoners and the cessation of hostilities which since the war has cost France several thousand killed and which compelled us to keep in those distant regions an army of 70,000 men. It was an intolerable burden for which the parliament would no longer assume the same responsibility and I am surprised that we should be reproached in the very moment that we are asked to reduce our standing army—for an agreement which has as a result the prevention of new bloodshed and which permits us to reduce by half our army in the Orient."

"I am still more surprised that there should be any astonishment at this agreement. It was prepared and signed at London, in the course of a conference, which, on the initiative of England, we had been asked to attend. We gave notice to our allies that we had decided to sign a special agreement for the settlement of our private affairs. The Italians did the same. Unfortunately, these agreements were not at once ratified by the Angora assembly, but the text of them was communicated to all allied governments, including England."

"Later, with several modifications which did not fundamentally change it, this agreement was again examined and finally ratified by the great Turkish assembly. It can only aid in the establishment of a general peace of which all the conditions are reserved and will soon, I hope, from the obligations that they were met."

Chinese Win Victory At Arms Meet

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Abolition of extra-territorial rights in China, by which various powers maintain their own courts for trial of their own nationals, was agreed to in principle today by the powers represented in the Washington conference on Pacific and Far Eastern affairs.

The Chinese delegation presented to the committee today a statement strongly urging the abolition of the extra-territorial rights and sympathetic responses were said to have been voiced by the representatives of the other powers.

Belief was generally expressed, however, that the rights could not be given up immediately in view of conditions in China, but that the abolition should come as promptly as compatible with the present situation and progress of China.

The committee upon reaching the general agreement authorized the appointment of a sub-committee headed by Senator Lodge, of the American delegation, to present the principle in the concrete form of a resolution.

The sub-committee also will work out the details of the surrender by the powers of their rights. This task will include the consideration of a number of treaties and for that reason the time required for its accomplishment was problematical.

The committee of the nine powers also took up at today's session the question of the Chinese postal service and discussed the details in that connection until after one o'clock, when it was decided that the committee should conclude its sitting for the day and resume tomorrow. No decision was taken respecting Chinese posts.

The Chinese request for abolition of the extra-territorial privileges held by other nations was understood to have had the strong support of the American delegation. Secretary Hughes declared that "the foreign court should be abolished as soon as China demonstrated her ability to administer justice fairly to all within her borders."

PREMIER BRIAND RETURNS TO PARIS

NEW YORK, November 25.—Aristide Briand, premier of France, was a passenger on the steamship Paris, sailing today for Havre on his trip home, after outlining the position of his country in regard to limitation of armaments before the Washington conference. He was in Washington only a little more than two weeks, but while there played a vital part in the conference, his address, outlining France's reasons for maintaining a sizable standing army being one of the high spots of the last week's proceedings. He left expressing himself as "quite satisfied with the results of the conference thus far, especially as respects France."

M. Briand arrived here from the capital yesterday and spent a busy day before his departure. He received the degrees of Doctor of Laws from Columbia and New York Universities and gave his farewell message to the United States in an address at a dinner given by the Lotos Club in his honor.

LONDON—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, asserted Pope Benedict is ready for reconciliation with Italy, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 25.—Dr. M. E. Rumwell will be placed on the witness stand today in the Roscoe C. Arbuckle manslaughter trial to testify that Miss Virginia Rappe exonerated Arbuckle for her fatal injuries, it was announced by Gavin McNab, the defendant's chief counsel.

Dr. Rumwell was the first physician to give any detailed attention to Miss Rappe after the Arbuckle party.

Dr. Rumwell, according to McNab, interviewed Miss Rappe on the cause of her injuries while she was in full possession of her faculties, and she did not mention Arbuckle as being in any way responsible for the injuries.

Dr. Lloyd Bryan, of San Francisco, a defense medical expert, was the first witness today. He was followed by Dr. George Franklin Shields, of San Francisco.

More than 20,000 rabbits, shipped into the Cincinnati market, were barred from use as food by Dr. Blume and his inspectors since the first of the week on the ground that they were unfit.

COURT HOUSE

Henry on Trial
John Henry, New Boston deputy marshal, indicted jointly with Mayor J. E. Davis, Marshal Frank Scott and Motor Cop Dewey Larson for highway robbery in connection with the alleged hold-up of an automobile early on the morning of November 8 occupied by Herbert Riekey and others and stealing 1500 Republican campaign bills from the machine, was brought to trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Friday morning.

Herbert Riekey, Marion Pool, and C. O. Jenkins, who occupied the automobile at the time of the alleged robbery which occurred in front of Pool's home on Rhodes avenue, New Boston, were the principal witnesses for the state. They told of Mayor Davis and the other officers coming up to the machine and of the events that followed. They said that Davis after giving Pool a raking, accusing him of carrying on a dirty campaign and threatening to have him locked up if he dared to give him any back talk, commanded John Henry to turn his flashlight inside the car and when the latter obeyed discovered the package of circulars on the rear seat. The witnesses declared that Davis then ordered Henry to seize the bills and he followed instructions, taking the papers under his arm and carrying them away. All three witnesses testified that there was no resistance offered when the bills were taken as the officers exhibited a hostile attitude and were armed, by reason of which caused them to be placed in fear, they asserted.

L. Chapman, who printed the bills, was called to prove the value of the property taken. He stated that he received $24.75 for the job.

Attorney B. F. Kimble for the accused interposed a motion, when the state finished its direct testimony, to direct a verdict for the defendant, contending that the state had failed to prove the material allegations of the indictment that the prosecuting witness was assaulted or that he had been put in fear by the act of the defendant or that there was any prearranged plan or conspiracy on the part of the defendant to commit robbery.

In opposing the motion Prosecutor Sheppard claimed that the evidence adduced showed not only that the property was taken by force through concerted action on the part of the defendants but intimidation as well. The court overruled the motion and the defense started on its tiring.

The defendant took the stand in his own behalf and he told of accompanying Mayor Davis to the auto and of taking the circulars from the machine when he commanded to do so by the mayor. He admitted that he had no warrant for the arrest of the men or that he was armed with any authority to search the car.

Mayor Davis stated that he was going about the village painting signs "Vote for Davis" when he discovered the automobile and decided to investigate. He said that after inquiring of Riekey what he had inside the car he ordered Henry to seize the campaign literature when it was discovered on the rear seat. He admitted that he had been advised previously that the bills had been printed and that it was an attack on him. The witness declared that he ordered the bills seized because he thought that perhaps their distribution might cause trouble. Davis denied calling Pool any bad names but admitted that he did threaten to have him locked up if he attempted to pull any dirty work at the election. He declared that no violence or intimidation methods were employed in taking the bills.

Dewey Parsons and Frank Hall were also called by the defense and their evidence supported the stories of Henry and Davis.

The evidence was concluded soon after the noon recess and Prosecutor Sheppard made the opening argument for the prosecution. He was followed by Attorney for the defense and from all indications the case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

Evans, Sciotoville, employed as a stationary engineer at the Whitaker-Chester company.

They were married in July 1920, and through Attorneys Blair and Blair the wife declares that Evans has cursed, abused, assaulted and beat her and she asserts she is without means and compelled to rely upon the charity of her relatives and friends. She secured a temporary injunction tying up the defendant's wages in the hands of his employers until the case can be heard on its merits.

Attorney Homer L. Small appeared and made a strong appeal for clemency for the accused, pointing out that this was their first serious offense, that they enlisted in military service during the late war and he also declared that the support of the defendants was needed by their relatives. Judge Thomas continued the cases for sentence.

Fitting Miss Doris May as snugly as a new pair of gloves, "The Foolish Age," her first starring vehicle for R.C. Pictures Corporation, already has won a place as one of the foremost laugh-makers of the year. It is being screened at the Eastland Theatre, where it will remain for an engagement of two days.

Written by Hunt Stromberg, expressly for Miss May's starring debut, "The Foolish Age" has a novel idea that adapts itself readily to humorous situations. Mr. Stromberg's familiarity with Miss May's talents on the screen has enabled him to fashion her initial vehicle so that the charming young star appears to her absolute best advantage.

Miss May appears as the debutante daughter of a doctor and wealthy father who believes that her prospective husband should be a man of wealth and position like himself. Margie, however, has a different view. Moreover she has a big idea and decides to put it immediately into effect. She decides to uplift the fallen and the down-trodden and starts about her task with a rush of enthusiasm.

Supporting Miss May in her first starring production is a cast of more than ordinary prominence and ability. The members are: Harlan, Lillian Worth, Arthur Hoyt, Billy Limer and Spike Robinson. Harlan in the leading male role made a recent hit in "A Ten Dollar Raise."

Sins of diet often result in pimples and boils

A familiar fresh food corrects their basic cause

THE causes of pimples and blackheads (acne) are always found in lowered vitality, very commonly associated with constipation and digestive disorders," says one skin specialist, and he further says that "the repeated occurrence of boils should always be looked upon as an indication of lowered vitality."

Scientists now know that the real cause of the trouble may be some "sin of diet."

It is now generally acknowledged that the lack of one food factor called vitamin is largely responsible for the lowered vitality that so often brings skin disorders and blemishes.

Something to correct the basic cause of these complaints is clearly needed. Scientists have discovered it in the familiar little cake of Fleischmann's Yeast, for yeast is the richest known source of the food factor essential to perfect digestion.

Physicians and hospitals are therefore prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast as an addition to the diet. It yields remarkable results in the treatment of boils and acne so often due to sins of diet.

Fleischmann's Yeast is a highly digestible fresh food. Have it on the table at home and on your desk at the office. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor, and the clean wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth. Eat from 2 to 3 cakes a day just plain or on crackers or bread. Within two weeks you should notice an improvement. Obsolete cases may require two or three weeks longer. If troubled with gas, dissolve the yeast first in half a cup of very hot water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Get Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily from your grocer.

Send 4c in stamps for the booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." So many inquiries are coming in daily for this booklet that it is necessary to make this nominal charge to cover cost of handling and mailing. Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington Street, New York City.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamin preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

The man had fallen in love with a woman he did not know. Never dreaming this radiant creature the drug-ding, unhappy wife of a wastrel.

For her Cinderella's heart had leaped to taste of joy and luxury just for one night. And when love answered love—

The rest is a drama that goes to the very bottom of marriage. Glowing with the color, richness and fashion that only De Mille can paint on the screen.

Passion on Pottery.
The passionate declarations of Persian lovers of a thousand years ago are inscribed on some specimens of early Persian pottery found during excavations near the ancient city of Khar, and now belonging to Sir Walter Townley, formerly British minister at Teheran. A beautiful turquoise glazed Laginardi bowl bears this outpouring of a wounded heart: "Thou hast rubbed me of my heart, but, accustomed to sorrow, cannot not feel for me and art therefore pardoned. I have been away from thee for a thousand nights in some affliction, but thou has not known the anguish of separation from thyself even for a single night, and art therefore pardoned." On a large white and blue dish appear three inscriptions in Persian and Arabic beginning: "Be kind, and say that you belong to me. It does not cost much to tell a fib."—Exchange.

Octopus Not Dangerous.
The octopus has the power of changing color more highly developed than any other animal. He could accommodate himself to the vivid background of a tortan plaid without a tremor. Indeed, this is his main line of defense. He clings mechanically with his many suckers to whatever he may touch, but a tight grip upon the slight construction between his head and little round body invariably causes him to relax his hold. To see the impunity with which any French fisher girl will handle an octopus might dispel the fears of the most nervous bather that ever mistook an overgrown jelly fish for the eight-armed terror of the deep.

HUGHES DOES NOT WANT BATTLESHIPS THAT CAN NOT GO THRU PANAMA CANAL

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The real reason for the proposal of Secretary Hughes and the American navy that hereafter no battleships shall be built by any nation larger than 35,000 tons, is just coming to the surface. The United States does not wish to have any battleships too large to go through the Panama Canal. Before the present conference was convened and the armament race was at its height, there was talk of 50,000 and 60,000 ton battleships to be built by Japan. This would have been met by the construction of American battleships of equal size but these vessels would have been valuable to the United States only in the Pacific where they would have had to be kept most of the time.

American naval policy, at least for the present contemplates a fleet divided between the Atlantic and the Pacific and one of the chief values of the canal is that strategically it gives the United States great defensive strength. The disadvantage of having vessels in the Pacific which must round Cape Horn was conspicuously illustrated in the Spanish-American war: when "Flight" Evans made his memorable trip from the Pacific to Atlantic waters to assist the squadrons off the Cuban coast.

The Panama Canal is able at present to accommodate vessels with a displacement of over 40,000 tons comfortably but the engineers who built the ditch did not contemplate ships greater than 110 feet in width.

AN ENEMY TO GOOD HEALTH

Good health has no greater enemy than constipation. Foley Cathartic Tablets are mild but sure in action. They banish biliousness, bloating, bad breath, coated tongue, sick headache, sour stomach and other ills caused by indigestion. Take one tonight and you will feel better in the morning.

The Fisher and Streich Pharmacy

There are now no vessels afloat as wide as this so the Hughes proposal affects only the future. It reads as follows:

"That no capital ship shall be built in replacement with a tonnage displacement of more than 35,000 tons."

Mr. Hughes gave no reasons or argument for the foregoing suggestion but naval experts now realize what was back of it.

Of course there were other reasons for this limitation such as stabilizing the value of existing battleships and armament.

When the Panama Canal was built there was considerable discussion about the future size of battleships and some engineers advocated a width of at least 120 or 130 feet and now experts are inclined to agree that the ditch should have been wider than 110 feet for length, the newest type of battle cruisers are approximately 300 feet long, while the locks are not much more than 1,000 feet in length.

There are those who believe that good fighting craft of as much as 60,000 tons displacement could be built with a width of 108 feet which would enable them to pass through the canal.

Callouses

These girls haven't lily-white hands. They're English girls who have taken up rowing and are preparing to challenge a muscle-line crew for the supremacy of the Thames.

These Modern Children.

When the Woman weat-ends at Mary's house she is awakened at seven by a small figure in pajamas demanding stories. Last Sunday in that period between sleep and waking the Woman dug "Cinderella" from her subconscious mind. She placed undue emphasis on the predicament of poor Cinderella with no coach in which to go to the ball, thinking that Mary's imagination would be stimulated by the clever way in which the fairy godmother had overcome the difficulty. But the Woman had forgotten her psychology and disregarded the practical experience of the Modern Child! Mary was politely silent until the last rat had turned into a footman and mounted the box. Then she opened her brown eyes wide, removed her thumb from her mouth and said: "Why didn't she call a taxi?"—New York Sun.

Nation of Snobs.

We are a nation of snobs, of whom there are as many in a factory as there are in a church.

Under the Hughes proposals, the United States would scrap vessels of the Indiana, Iowa, Montana and North Carolina with an estimated displacement of 43,000 tons, the building of which has been authorized. Of course the larger the ship, the greater the size of guns and armament and therefore the more costly the whole vessel becomes. Just as soon as one nation builds a vessel of larger type than any other nation, immediately all ships of preceding classes which do not carry as big guns are considered "obsolete" in the naval sense and the construction engineers turn their thoughts to ships of the larger size. The Japanese battleship "Nagato" is the largest afloat and the United States has been building vessels to match Japan in that class. Similarly the Hood type of battleships built by Great Britain which are to be scrapped under the Hughes program are potential challengers in the armament race. The proposal to limit all battleships to 35,000 tons displacement, means therefore, some stability in the armament competition. At the same time it removes the danger of longer and wider vessels than the Panama Canal could accommodate.

STATE DEPUTY WARDEN PAYS STRIKING TRIBUTE TO NERV-WORTH

Frank H. Dinsmore, Former Ohio State Deputy Warden Gave This Weighty Statement Recommending Nerv-Worth Some Time Ago

"While in Columbus some time ago I tried a sample dose of Nerv-Worth and I am convinced I'd try a bottle when I got home," said Mr. Dinsmore, who lives in Cochrton, Ohio.

"I was tired out and my system was run down and I thought a tonic like Nerv-Worth would do me good, and I found it brought the answer. I am highly pleased with the results, and cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth for run down people."

The above is but one of the many statements from people who hold high public offices. Such men do not endorse anything that does not have merit and for that reason their statements offer the most convincing of proof. If you are in a run-down or nervous condition or suffer from stomach troubles, give Nerv-Worth a trial, and it will do you good. Your money will be refunded.

You will finally come to Nerv-Worth for satisfactory results, so why not start now? Be sure to get the genuine in the large round bottle. Price $1.00 plus tax. Sold by Fisher & Streich pharmacy and all leading druggists everywhere.

Wife Helps Elect Hubby

After having been in bed half the time for a year with severe pains in my right side over the appendix, stomach trouble and bloating, which the doctors seemed unable to reach with medicine, and advised an operation as the only remedy, my nurse advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and its results have truly been wonderful as I am now entirely well and strong and at the last election worked hard to elect my husband. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will continue or money refunded. Flood and Blake, Fishers and Streich and druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

"Bluebeard Of Gambais" Defense Begins

VERSAILLES, November 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The prosecution today concluded its case against Henri Landru and the defense began bringing forward witnesses in an attempt to disprove the contention of the state that the "Bluebeard of Gambais" is guilty of the commission of eleven murders and the cremation of the bodies of his victims.

The last witness for the state was Dr. Sauvez, a prominent dentist, who offered the expert testimony that twenty-nine of forty-seven teeth produced by the prosecution, alleged to have been found among refuse at Landru's villa, were "indisputably human." He declared the teeth had been burned while still in the jaws and that the skulls belonged to two bodies, one of which without the slightest doubt, was a woman's.

The defense opened by bringing witnesses to testify that the public was freely admitted to the villa at Gambais and the outhouses around it, while the first search of the premises was going on, April 13, and also in the days following, until April 25, when the premises had been sealed after the second and more fruitful search had been completed.

Oh Ho! Waverly Heard From

The Republican Herald in this week's issue unburdened itself thusly: Down at Portsmouth last Sunday, there was a great football struggle between Ironton and Portsmouth. Everybody knows of the rivalry between these two cities and, when the game was about over, the score stood 14-0 in favor of Ironton. Then showing a streak of yellow the entire length of their backbones, the Portsmouth bunch quit play when the ball was within a yard of Ironton's goal and only four minutes time to play in, the referee forfeited the game to Ironton 1-0, and announcing all bets off. Yet had Portsmouth won, would the bets have been called off? And then again to show their sportsmanship, the Portsmouth gang is holding back Mr. Frank Gasele and Robert Ing up Ironton's 40 per cent of the gate receipts, which will amount to $1600. It is but a cheap squeal from a cheap bunch of sports and only reflects the character of the city. It is the same dirty tactics that were used against Waverly the past fall season.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting and operations fail? Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet recently discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Wurster Bros. and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—Advertisement.

Chinese And British Delegates Clashing Over Riot Principles

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Resuming its Far Eastern discussions today, the Washington conference was prepared to take up specifically the request submitted in the Chinese ten points for abolition of the system of "extra-territoriality" under which the foreign powers have set up their own courts in China to handle cases in which their respective nationals are involved. While all the nations represented here have indicated a "sympathetic interest" in the Chinese delegates themselves do not believe the present condition of Chinese courts would make this immediately possible.

It was considered a possibility by some of the delegates that the meeting today would see the first reference to the case of Shantung and South Manchuria, which would bring up what are conceded to be some of the most complicated questions faced in the entire negotiations.

In the "outside" developments of the conference the conflict of view between the British and Chinese delegations on the application of the four general principles already adopted with relation to China remained the outstanding point of interest. Whether this issue might be raised formally within the conference today was not certain, although it was the opinion generally of delegates that in any case it would be so handled as to preclude any possibility of an impasse.

It had been revealed authoritatively today that the purpose of the American delegation in bringing forward the Root resolution was to place the entire Far East negotiations on a foundation of accepted basic principles from whose application there would be no escape as the conference proceeded to the consideration of details involved in the Chinese ten points and other open issues.

At the same time it was said that the continuance of international supervision of Chinese customs, finances and even railroads was not viewed by the American delegation as in any sense inconsistent with the declarations in the Root resolutions in favor of the maintenance of Chinese integrity and independence.

The subcommittee of the nine powers appointed to study the question of the Chinese tariff will be called together by Senator Underwood, its chairman, in a few days, it was announced today.

The committee is waiting preparation of additional fiscal data to begin its work. The disposition of the American delegation seems to be in favor of increasing the maximum to which China has been restricted in her customs imposts as necessary for maintenance of the government.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. Phillips, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous depression, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter proves that no other remedy is so successful as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR CHAPTER XXXVI—CISSY SHELDON STARTLES ME.

RATHER than go shopping, sometimes, I'd make a hat or two with materials gleaned from the one hundred boxes of millinery in my wardrobe.

That was fun, but what were out my nerves and my patience was the fittings of the costumes made to order, and according to special designs. More than one morning I've "tried on" until I have come close to fainting.

So much more does success in the movies exact.

I so enjoyed making a few hats, now and then, and I was so good at it, that I decided to go into the millinery business if my movie career were to crash.

While I admit that I enjoy acting better than anything else in this world, I do other things with much enthusiasm. Cooking, dancing, swimming or making beds gives me some joy. As long as there's a right and wrong way to do things, there's the fun of discovery and accomplishment. How to take a tea stain from table linen can be made an art. And whatever I learn, I use sometimes in the movies. Once a great artist told me that work is the secret of genius. To keep on working, and never to care how much, or how hard, or how long one works, if one only can get a result which one has definitely planned before hand.

I think that this rule for perfection applies to trades and crafts as well as to art. I often fancy that I would have made good at keeping a bakery had fate so directed me.

Each morning I make out my schedule for the day, before I get out of bed, to find too often that the luncheon I had expected to take in a luxurious hotel has to be snatched in my car on the road to the studios.

That hurts Motherdear more than it does me. Once, after we had had a strenuous morning of fittings for "Love Lorn," I was due at the studios at two for some short relaxes.

I stopped at a bakery, bought some Vienna rolls, and nibbled them without butter as we rode along. That was my only refreshment between an early breakfast and a late dinner.

"Cissy, when he heard, didn't think it a joking matter."

"May! This life will do for us men. But for you—please—please let me take you out of it!"

I shook my head, but less emphatically than usual when Cissy pleads. I was very tired that afternoon.

"You're so shy! You're only started in the game! It's terrible! You don't know yet. I don't want you to know what it's like."

"For one thing, I've learned that I'm never going to have time to play!"

"May, you could play, if you'd let me take you out of this game and put you in a home—in the country—with gardens and horses and—"

I interrupted him with: "Cissy Sheldon, you're a wizard! You've almost made me forget that I do not believe in love!"

Death Valley Once Bed of Lake.
In support of the view that Death valley in California was formerly the bed of a lake, is the discovery of traces of an ancient water line running along the flanks of the enclosing mountains at a height of 600 feet. The bottom of the valley is 200 feet below sea level. The winds from the Pacific cross four ranges of mountains before reaching the valley, and by that time they have been drained of their last drop of moisture. It is said that no spot on earth surpasses Death valley in aridity or Tophet-like heat. The lake that once filled it is believed to have been fed by a river which has now also vanished. The borax deposits of Death valley are commercially important, but labor is all but impossible in a place where to be without water for a single hour in summer means death.

A Hyde Park orator returning home flushed with his efforts, and also from certain spirituous causes, found a mild curate seated opposite in the transept. "It may interest you to know," he said truculently, "that I don't believe in the existence of a heaven." The curate merely nodded, and went on reading his newspaper. "You don't quite realize what I'm trying to make clear. I want you to understand that I don't believe for a single, solitary moment that such a place as 'even exists.' All right, all right," answered the curate pleasantly, "go to hell, only don't make quite so much fuss about it."—Tuttler.

If I could tell people how to take on and take off flesh I could make a fortune in no time. Some people are just naturally fat and some just naturally skinny and they might just as well be satisfied with their size and let it go at that.

Dear Dolly—I am expecting to spend a few days in Columbus, O., about Christmas time. Would you please give me the names and rates of some of the good hotels which are all right for a lady to stay at when she is alone?

The Chittenden, which is about a square below Union Station, on the right hand side of the street, is a first-class hotel. The Deshier, corner of Broad and High. The Neil House, a half a block farther down, are all first-class hotels. Then there is the Y. W. C. A. located at 64-65 South Fourth street. Take the High street car going south and get off at Broad and walk east to Fourth, then turn to your left one-half block, or take State street car and get off at Fourth street. The hotel rates depend upon the kind of a room you want. One with a private bath costs more than one without a bath.

Dear Miss Wise—I would like very much to take up Kindergarten work. Could you tell me of a college close, where I could learn to be a kindergarten teacher? BLUE EYES.
The Columbus Kindergarten School is a very excellent one. Other well-known schools are the Chicago Kindergarten College and those in connection with the Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, and with Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York.

Dear Dolly—Was Kentucky voted dry or was it voted wet? O. H.

Dear Miss Wise—Which has the larger population, London or New York City? Where can I obtain a copy of the 1920 census?

A SCHOLAR.
New York is the largest city in the world. I don't know where you could get the 1920 census now, but if you can wait until after the first of the year, the 1922 World Almanac will have the complete census of every city and country in the world.

D. O.—If you will call me up on $40 I will answer your question.

Betty, Lucasville—Your question was answered in Thursday's paper.

Dear Dolly—I am a constant reader of your column and as I have never written you before I would like, for you to answer this question: "Is fear in a soldier's heart in time of battle cowardice?" A READER.
No, it is not cowardice. I imagine every soldier that faced the enemy had a fear of what might happen. It's human nature to fear danger. There is a difference between fear and cowardice. The coward was the one who refused to fight for his country.

Prominent Ministers Agree With Doctors And Newspaper Men Relative to Remarkable Merit of This New Discovery and Submit Opinions For Publication.

INTERESTING NEWS COMES TO LIGHT HERE

Portsmouth Woman Says, "Pepgen Gave My Husband Almost Immediate Relief From Stomach and Kidney Troubles. He Thinks There Is Nothing Like Pepgen."

Nowadays a great many people are telling how they have been relieved of various ailments by a new medical discovery known as Pepgen. Among them is the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Scholl, of 117 West Ohio street, North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Because of their lofty vocation, statements from ministers are always interesting but they are not more significant as to the merits of the new medicine, Pepgen, than those given by nationally-known newspaper men, an example of which is furnished below by Dr. J. O'Donnell, publisher of the Dayton, O. Montgomery Reporter.

Another authority who strongly recommends Pepgen to the general public is Dr. Josiah H. King, of 142 East Second street, Erie, Pa. He is a graduate of the medical department of Old State University at Columbus, O. He tried Pepgen himself and recommends it for the good it did him.

Following are the individual statements made by the parties referred to in this article:

Rev. Scholl's Experience

"I am 59 years of age and I have been a student all my life," says the Rev. Charles A. Scholl. "I speak of this simply in order that people who read what I have to say about Pepgen will know that it comes from one who has had many years of experience and who has spent his life in study."

"I have taken two bottles of Pepgen for my kidneys and I conscientiously state that it has benefited me. I first noticed the trouble with my kidneys about 20 years ago and I have been ailing more or less ever since."

"Since Pepgen helped my kidney trouble I am glad and willing to recommend it publicly. I wish it understood that I am not a person who would give a statement like this unless the medicine I recommended was a good one. In the case of Pepgen, I sincerely believe this to be true because I gave it a thorough trial and it proved to be beneficial. To all my friends and to others I say, 'Pepgen is a good medicine; it helped me and I recommend it to you.'"

What Dr. King Says

"I was troubled with dyspepsia for about 15 years," says Dr. Josiah H. King. "One bottle of Pepgen has given me a good deal of relief from this trouble. I notice especially that Pepgen relieves me of formation of gas on my stomach. I also consider Pepgen to be a splendid tonic and appetizer. I intend to take several more bottles of Pepgen and I am glad to recommend it."

Publisher's Opinion

D. J. O'Donnell, publisher, says: "Pepgen is a wonderful tonic. I was in a general run down condition when I started to take it. I had a fairly good appetite but my food didn't give me strength. Something was surely wrong with my digestion. I felt tired and draggy all the time."

"Since taking Pepgen I am like a new man. I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the benefit I received."

Local Woman's Story

Hundreds of people who live right here in Portsmouth relate similar experiences. Among them Mrs. Thera Burr, of 1088 Front street, Portsmouth. She says:

"For the last five or six months my husband has suffered from kidney and stomach trouble. He tried several different medicines but none of them did him much good."

"Then my husband heard of Pepgen and the relief it had brought others. He bought a bottle of Pepgen at Fisher and Streich's Pharmacy and started taking it. Pepgen proved to be far different from the other medicines my husband had taken. It seemed to give him almost immediate relief. He thinks there is nothing like Pepgen and has recommended it to a great many friends."

Wherever Pepgen is introduced it quickly gains a substantial reputation as a medicine of superior merit. In all parts of the country men and women are praising Pepgen for relief it gave them from ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and nerves which, in many instances, other medicines had failed to relieve.

Chemists worked three years to perfect Pepgen. When they finished they had given Pepgen the highest merit it was possible to obtain and it is this superior merit that has made Pepgen the foremost medicinal preparation of its kind in America. Pepgen has given relief in hundreds of thousands of cases of indigestion, biliousness, pains in stomach and back, constipation, headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, lack of appetite, general weakness and the like. It goes straight to the seat of such trouble. Try Pepgen!

Pepgen is recommended and sold by the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy. It is also stocked by all other leading pharmacies in Portsmouth and nearby towns.

Little Girl's Good Fortune Pleases Mother

"I consider Pepgen a wonderful medicine, especially for children," says Mrs. Gus Lipp, of 637 Second street, Portsmouth. "It helped my little girl, Margaret, aged nine, more than anything else I ever gave her."

"I don't believe there was anything serious wrong with Margaret. She just seemed to lack energy and vigor. It was seldom that she ever went out to play with other children. Her appetite was very poor."

"I read about Pepgen in the newspapers and decided to have Margaret take it. I am sure, thankful now that I did. Margaret is showing a great many signs of improvement and I consider Pepgen a wonderful medicine. I cannot recommend it too highly."

Pepgen is equally effective for children or grown-ups. It has improved the health of countless frail, weakly children. Try Pepgen!

GALLIA STREET BUSINESS MAN WANTS TO SHARE HIS PROFITS WITH PUBLIC OF PORTSMOUTH

Since deriving great profits from Pepgen in the way of relief from stomach trouble, R. Cole, who lives at 539 Front street, Portsmouth, and conducts a meat market at 1020 Gallia street, wants to share his big gain with the public of the city, according to Mrs. Cole.

"My husband is highly pleased with Pepgen since it relieved his stomach trouble and I can recommend this medicine after what it did for him," says Mrs. Cole.

"My husband suffered with his stomach for several years. His appetite was very poor. Food did not agree with him."

"My husband read about Pepgen in the newspapers and started taking it. Since taking Pepgen, he thinks it is the greatest thing of the kind he ever tried. Pepgen gave him an excellent appetite. It put his stomach in such good condition that he can eat almost anything he cares for now. All his food agrees with him. In addition, Pepgen had a beneficial effect upon his entire system."

Men and women who suffer from stomach trouble can find no better medicine than Pepgen. Pepgen is a vegetable preparation. It contains no mineral salts that might irritate the delicate linings of the stomach and really do more harm than good in cases of stomach disorders. Pepgen relieves gas, bloating and pain and brings a normal appetite, good digestion and proper assimilation. In addition, Pepgen tones up the liver, kidneys and nerves. It has a beneficial effect upon the entire system. Try Pepgen!

Big Amount Of Cash Lost By A Third St. Woman

"Pepgen has relieved me of liver trouble after many other medicines had failed. In fact, I spent a large amount of money for other preparations but it was all lost because none of them helped me. Naturally, since Pepgen gave me relief from my trouble, I can't recommend this medicine too highly."

So says Mrs. Gertrude Rudy, of 924 Third street, Portsmouth. Mrs. Rudy is only one of hundreds of Portsmouth people who recommended Pepgen for relief it gave them from stomach, liver, kidney and nerve troubles. In fact, local druggists say that never before has any medicine gained the quick success here that has come to Pepgen. Continuing, Mrs. Rudy says regarding her experience with Pepgen:

"For a number of years I suffered from liver trouble. I tried a great many medicines and spent a large sum of money trying to gain relief but nothing helped me. I had almost come to believe that I never would be any better when a friend told me about Pepgen. I had confidence in my friend and on his advice I started taking Pepgen."

"Pepgen proved to be a remarkable medicine in my case. It is certainly the finest preparation I ever tried. It gave me entire relief from my trouble. I cannot recommend Pepgen too highly after what it did for me."

Pepgen is especially intended to relieve ailing conditions of the stomach, liver, kidneys and nerves. It has given relief in hundreds of thousands of such cases in all parts of the country. Try Pepgen!

MRS. MARY WILHELM
Pittsburg, Pa.

"No matter what I should say about Taulac, it wouldn't be half good enough," said Mrs. Mary Wilhelm, 716 Mill Way, South Side, Pittsburg, Pa. "I never dreamed it possible for a medicine to restore me to the splendid health I now enjoy. In fact, I had almost resigned myself to being an invalid, as I could see I was losing weight and strength every day, and no relief was in sight. For three years stomach trouble, headaches and nervousness made my life miserable. The first bottle of Taulac acted almost like magic and it wasn't long until I was so well and strong that I could hardly realize I had ever known a sick day. I am like a different person in every way now, eating, sleeping, feeling and looking better than in years."

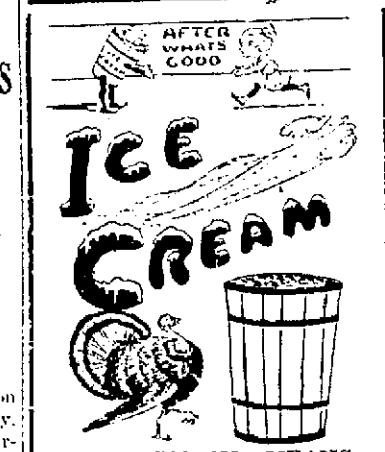

Taulac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

CHURCHES MAKE THANKSGIVING DAY

A HAPPY ONE FOR "HOME" CHILDREN

Thanksgiving Day at the Scioto County Children's Home was a day that will long be remembered by the little ones who reside there. They had a real, genuine, old-fashioned Thanksgiving Day, one not surpassed in any home in the county. Much of this was due to the splendid efforts of the members of the Methodist church at Wheelersburg, who thoughtfully furnished a splendid dinner for the Home children. Under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Kirk, the good women of the church prepared great baskets of turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce, pies, cakes, everything in fact that goes to make a complete dinner. The baskets were taken to the Home during the morning hour, and as many of the church members as could do so, remained while the children were enjoying the meal. Appropriate remarks were made prior to the meal by Rev. Mr. Kirk and Rev. Mr. Howes, the superintendent of the Home.

In the afternoon a delegation from the Intermediate Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church of Portsmouth drove to the Home, taking with them a huge basket of fine eating apples and one hundred sacks of home made candy. The children were all assembled, together with a score of visitors, in the assembly room of the Home, and each child received apples and candy. Then a delightful program of recitations and songs was given by members of the Intermediate class, much to the delight of the children.

A BLOOD-BUILDER FOR TIRED WOMEN

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood
—Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form

When a woman overworks, either mentally or physically, there is a strain on the vitality. Getting up in the morning she feels low in spirits. Her eyes are dull, her complexion is sallow or pasty.

A few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken in regular doses is what will build up her blood.

The reason for this is known. It is simply that Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes blood rich and red. It has the things in it that make new blood and drive out the poisons in the system. New blood makes new vigor and gradually the depressed feelings vanish, the natural healthy glow comes back to the skin and there is pleasure in living.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is sold at drug stores in liquid or tablet form. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package.—Advertisement.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PAUL SHIPWRECK ED. ACTS 27:1-41

By REV. W. H. BISHOP.

This is one of the rare chapters of the Bible and might easily demonstrate the truth of the adage "Man's extremity is God's opportunity." In reading the chapter one must be struck with the acquaintance Luke evidently has of the sea and sea-faring ways in general. His narrative is so full of nautical terms, Christ's disciples were practical men. His description of the voyage and shipwreck is masterpiece of vivid and accurate narration. The storm is so realistically described that the reader can hear the roaring of the wind, feel the creaking of the ship, and see the panic on the faces of the passengers.

Man's Extremity

The whole narrative shows the impotence and ineffectiveness of man. The night of the Roman empire seemed of no avail to bring Paul to Caesar. Only as he wished it could it be accomplished. The captain of the ship had reached his extremity. It was the extremity of Rome. Soldiers and sailors were alike at their wits' end. The storm was of unusual severity. "All hope that we should be saved was then taken away." Even the sun refused to shine for weeks, and the waves continued to toss them about. This is God's method. As long as man has a prop to hang to he has no need of God. He sees fit, sometimes to remove the prop so as to make us learn our own helplessness. A drowning man cannot be saved as long as he struggles for himself. Some of man's props are: Intelligence, self-confidence, self-righteousness, health, riches and material prosperity.

God's Opportunity

1. The storm brought out God. He revealed Himself as the God who is ver nature and all its forces. Pagan gods have always been and still are represented by the good and evil forces of nature. Heretofore Nature in all her warring moods has always been a terrifying power to superstitious peoples. On the other hand the God of revelation has always been associated with man. "Like as a father pitieth, etc." and "As a mother comforteth, etc."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEWS

Today sees the finish of the Bible school's exciting Ocean-to-Ocean Auto Race. It is also their "Home-Coming Day." Let us hope their attendance goal was reached.

Our church lacks two things: It needs more adults in its Bible school, and more young people attending church. Can't we fix it this way: for every older person who starts coming to the Bible school, let the school see that some younger person begins attending church.

There's a challenge, now! Let's try it!

Christian Endeavor was conducted by the pastor last Sunday.

Meeting at the C. E. meeting, the following newly elected officers being installed: Pres. Mrs. Bertha DeBoer; Vice Pres. Miss Bessie Copas; Recording Secretary, Miss Page Gove; Corresponding Secretary, Miss E. L. The meeting tonight at six, will be Statistics of school children in the United States show those of the Anglo-Saxon race are taller and weigh more than others.

in charge of the prayer meeting committee. It is to be a "Campfire" meeting and promises to have a number of unusual features.

Mid-Week Services

We want some new faces at the prayer meeting on Wednesday night at seven. The subject will be "The Gospel of Mark." These outline which the pastor is giving week by week should be singularly helpful in securing a clear idea of the author, content, purpose and enduring message of the different books of the Bible. Come prepared to give your favorite verse in Mark.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrh of the Ears, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Paracat (double strength), add to it 1-4 pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easier and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrh of the ears, hard of hearing, or has head noises should give this prescription a trial—Advert.

Webster Gets A Real Ducking

YANCEYBURG, Nov. 25.—Wm. Webster and son, Frank, of Month of Laurel started for this place Friday in a buggy and when at Beech Chapel they drove into the creek to water the horse. Not observing how low the creek had washed the buggy came near upsetting. Mr. Webster was thrown into the water, getting a good wetting. He proceeded to Portsmouth in his wet clothing, something not many persons would care to pattern after.

Do You Want To Stay Married

THESE CENTENARIANS

TELL YOU HOW

Do you know that 133,000 divorces were granted in the United States in 1920? That one of every nine marriages ends in divorce? That 85 per cent of them are granted for desertion? Do you know that every four minutes of every hour, day and night, some couple is getting the knot untied and alimony arranged? That in six counties, statistics show, the number of divorces in 1920 exceeded the number of marriages? Do you know that in the last 20 years 3,707,182 American men and women obtained divorces? That, adding the minor children named in these divorce suits, nearly 5,000,000 Americans had their homes wrecked by divorces since 1900? In view of these appalling figures, the Times has asked Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, both over 100 years of age and married for 85 years and still happy together, to tell what is wrong with the American home today and how it can be remedied.

James Bell—104

Mrs. Bell—102

Bell's Advice To Young Wives

BY JAMES BELL

WIVES of today don't have enough to do. That's where a lot of trouble starts. Either the wife has a maid to do the drudgery or the modern labor saving machines which take the work out of housework. Two hours of work a day is not enough for you. That's what I say to Mrs. Modern Housewife!

GET YOUR ENJOYMENT AT HOME. That doesn't mean all the time—but generally. Too many wives think first of getting cleaned up and stepping downtown. It's always a wild rush for something new; new faces, new scenes, new forms of amusement. Make use of the good books, newspapers and photographs in your own sitting rooms.

IMPROVE YOUR MIND. How many wives keep in touch with what their husbands are doing in a business way? Not enough of them. You shouldn't have married him if you didn't intend to be a real helpmate. Talk over his affairs with him. Suggest things that will make his work easier.

KEEP THINGS TIDY AT HOME. A husband likes to come home and find his abode looking neat. And he also enjoys sitting down to a real meal. Only a brute will dine at a wife who thinks and acts on these lines.

DANCE WITH YOUR HUSBAND. When the dance music starts up to-day you usually find a man dancing with some other wife than his own. Don't let your husband be a last resort. Let him know that he is as good a dancer as any of them.

ELIMINATE THE BIG OBSTACLES. Two many wives abandon their husbands when a bit of trouble turns up to mar married happiness. That is just the time when he needs your help.

GIVE HIM A CHANCE TO UNDERSTAND YOU. No man can begin to understand his wife in one year—nor ten, for that matter. In my own case, I have kept learning right along and I expect to keep on learning.

MOST DIVORCES ARE UNNECESSARY. It used to take a pretty sizable rock to wreck the matrimonial ark, but now it seems the ship gradually settles on a sandy shore and at the first indication of danger the principals jump for their lives. But they jump the wrong way. Jump together instead of apart—and work out your little troubles.

By NEA Service
A BRAMES, Wis.—Introducing Mr. and Mrs. James Bell. She is 102 years old; he is 104. They have just celebrated their 85th wedding anniversary in their little log cabin, which nestles in a forest on the outskirts of Abrams.

Their married life? One grand success!

"Spats" now and then, to be sure, but they never amounted to anything. In fact, as they both explain, they never have time for serious quarrels.

Mrs. Bell divides her time between milking cows and tending the farmyard and applying deft fingers to fancy work. Her husband is a lover of the outdoors and takes a daily stroll to town after his routine farm work is done.

Recently Mrs. Bell started a patchwork quilt to present to her "little daughter," Mrs. M. A. Schultz, who is 76 years old.

The aged couple are already talking about how they will celebrate their 100th anniversary.

And incidentally, they are both strong believers in "and they lived happily ever after."

Mrs. Bell's Advice To Husbands

BY MRS. JAMES BELL

MAKE A FUSS OVER YOUR WIFE. That's my advice to young men who are married. In my days the girls used to like that. I guess it's pretty much the same today. A married man too often forgets the little courtesies he formerly bestowed on his wife.

EVERY GIRL LIKES TO BE TOLD SHE IS AN ANGEL. It pleases her when her husband remarks that she has the sweetest face and is a smart home manager. People will grow old but a girl likes to be made to think she hasn't aged.

THE HUSBANDS OF TODAY AREN'T OBSERVANT ENOUGH. Too often the young married man comes home tired out and is about as uncommunicative as an oyster. It's a good idea to mention special dishes that are prepared for the evening meal and to notice little changes in the home.

A MAN SHOULD REMEMBER THAT HIS WIFE IS ALONE ALL DAY. Husband, of course, is in the company of other men. He has business to think of and folks to talk to. Wife, however, has plenty of time to just think about HIS coming home. And when he arrives—and retires into his shell—what a disappointment.

GIRLS LIKE TO LOOK UP TO THEIR HUSBANDS. It's up to the husband to make himself worthy of it. A woman is naturally a hero worshiper. Is husband a real hero? Not always!

GIVE YOUR WIFE A CHANGE. It is cruel to expect her to cover the same routine every day. Take her to the restaurant once in a while. Share in her joy of planning a vacation. Give her something to look forward to.

DON'T BE "SMALL" ABOUT MONEY MATTERS. The young wife deserves credit for running the household. Praise; don't scold. If she is really extravagant, summon all your tact and ask her cooperation in cutting down expenses. But don't lay down the law to her.

DON'T SPEND EVERY EVENING AT HOME. If you don't belong to a lodge, invent some excuse to take you out at least once a month. She'll appreciate you. Boredom follows monotony.

Rheumatic? Try It!

England's Forests Gone. The forests for which England was at one time famous have vanished or only exist in the attenuated form of carefully preserved woods and parks, from which can be obtained only a fraction of the supplies needed.

Tight Hats and Baldness. It is as necessary for the hair to have sufficient air and good circulation of the blood as it is for the body. Both must "breathe," and both must be supplied with blood to carry off impurities. In the case of hair, the blood is supplied through the tiny veins situated around the roots, and any tight band around the upper portion of the head will cause the hair to die and fall out. The construction of men's hats is such that they press rather tightly upon the forehead and the bulging portion of the head at the back, thus impeding free circulation of the blood. The connection between a man's hat and his baldness is clear, from the fact that there are but few men who are entirely bald. Most of them have a fringe around the ears and the lower portion of the back of the head, parts which are not covered by their hats.

New Luxury for the Chinese. Barber shops are being opened in the far east and the Chinese are learning to appreciate the delights of American hair clippers.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

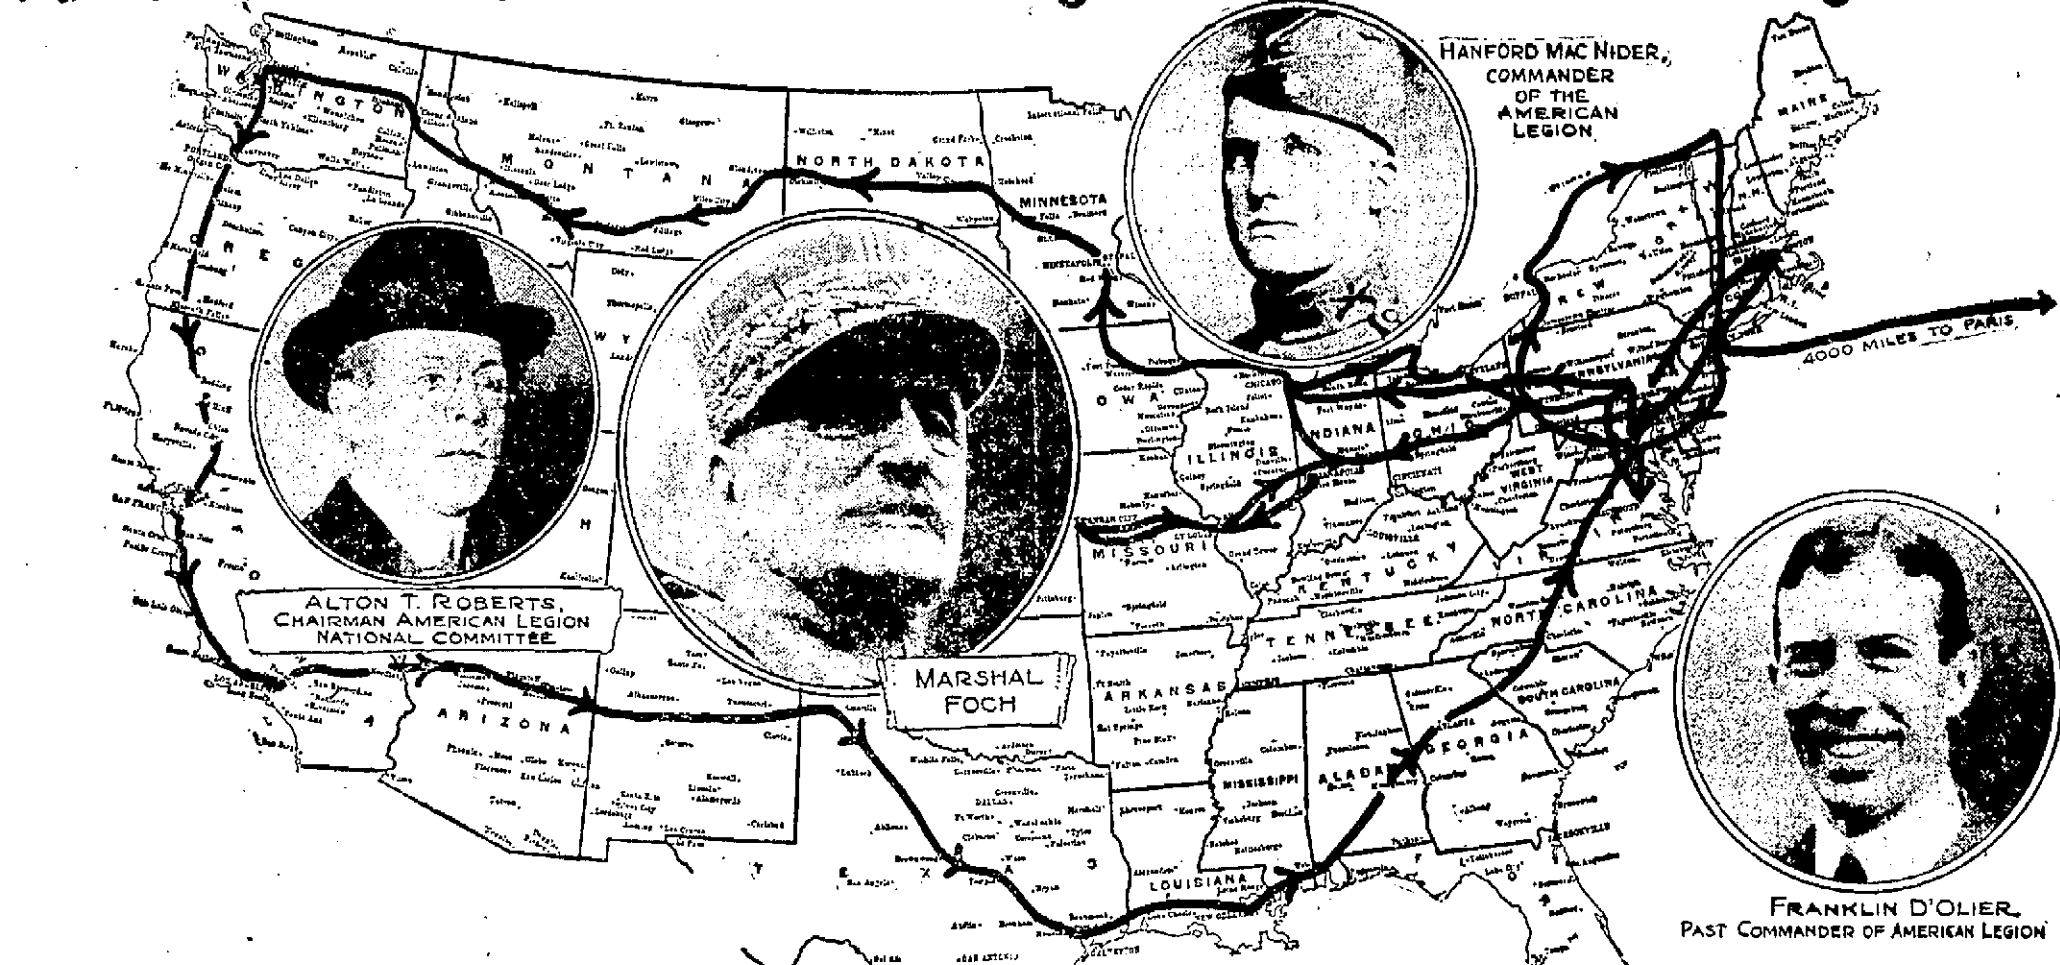

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for enamel, gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which no other cathartic does without any of its harmful after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, burning cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without any pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice. He cured patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Marshal Foch as Guest of American Legion Sets New Globe Trotting Record

Generalissimo of Allied Armies Travels 25,000 Miles in 60 Days

Ferdinand Foch, Marshal of France, has proved himself to be the youngest and liveliest man of three score years and ten that the world has ever seen. The commander-in-chief of the allied armies is now being rolled around the country at a rate beyond the dreams of a Jules Verne, and will soon return to France with a new record for intrepid globe-trotting.

Not until noon on Wednesday, December 14, will the American Legion bid its guest good-bye. And when the Marshal stands on the deck of the great French liner, and watches the skyline of New York fade out into the New World horizon, he will be carrying memories of as strenuous a campaign as ever was waged on the shores of continents by the score of honorary degrees of a host of station masters and trainmen, and inspections, corner stones laid, and for him. Therefore a trip which had at first been set for about three weeks was extended to seven weeks and a plan of travel mapped out which is taking the Marshal all around the United States.

Marshal Foch landed in this country October 28 and was formally received by the National Reception Committee of the American Legion of which Alton T. Roberts of Marquette, Michigan, is chairman, and Franklin D'Olier of Philadelphia, Pa., commander of the American Legion, is vice chairman.

From New York, on a special train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, he went to Washington, Baltimore, Kansas City, where he attended the annual convention of the American Legion to St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and back to Washington in time for the Armistice Day ceremonies at Arlington Cemetery.

Thence, he went to New Haven, seeing the Yale-Princeton game, "There he received the degree of D.D. to Providence where Brown conferred another degree; to Boston where Harvard conferred still another.

Then he went back to Washington and finally returned to New York.

In each city, he received a rousing welcome and was on the go from early morning till late at night. When he reached New York at the end of his first tour, the newspapermen asked him, at the home of de Lancy Kountze, whether he was tired.

"Tired? No. Any man who went through the world war can never feel tired."

And then the Marshal straightaway approved a new plan for his complete Western trip which includes: Richmond, Va.; Mason City, Ia.; the home of National Commander, Hanford MacNider of the American Legion; Minneapolis, St. Paul, Bismarck, N.D.; Billings, Mont.; Spokane, Wash.; Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Ore.; San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cal.; Grand Canyon, Ariz.; Houston, Texas; New Orleans; Montgomery, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga.; Spartanburg, S.C.; Charlotte, N.C.; thence back to Washington. Leaving Washington, he goes to West Point, Albany, N.Y.; Ottawa, Ont.; Montreal, Que.; and finally back to New York City by way of Vermont and Springfield, Mass.

The Marshal and his party reach New York December 13th and sail for France on the following day.

Never before has a distinguished visitor undertaken such an extensive tour in so limited a time. This is what Marshal Foch has to say: "I enjoy it all immensely. I am seeing the people I love most, next to my own countrymen. It does not tire me. It exhilarates me. I am seeing my comrades of the American Legion, most of whom fought under me with their illustrious General Foching. It is a magnificent trip. I am delighted."

ORIGIN AND PURPOSE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS

By A. E. MCKEE

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed for the fourteenth annual distribution of Christmas Seals, from the sale of which funds are provided for the nation-wide fight against tuberculosis. Every one has become familiar with these little reminders of the battle to relieve humanity from the ravages of the white plague, yet few know the story of their origin and the enormous results that have followed the happy suggestion of a good woman. In 1907 Emily Cross worked in Dulaware, a retail country dealer the Red Cross seal from the Health seals that were in use in Sweden and Norway. The Red Cross was quick to see its advantages. Penny Seals were within the purchasing power of every one. Men, women and children could help. The little talks would be interesting, their participation would raise the better part of their nature, bring them under the instructions for health, ultimately would develop a nation of individuals interested in the great battle for health and against disease. In 1908, in the first sale of seals, only $100,000 was realized. Last year the Christmas seal sale brought in $2,500,000. Over $10,000,000 has been received from sales since the work was started. It has been invested in community organization and health education. It has been a great spur to community effort and more than $150,000,000 public funds have been invested in sanatoria, fresh air camps, dispensaries and other helpful agencies for health in this country.

No other work in this country shows more plainly the enormous possibilities of small agencies that are active, the great things that come from the use of little penny seal. Many people help and the pennies build and educate and continue to supply a stream of funds for further building and help. Two years ago the Red Cross withdrew from the seal sale and the work is now directed by the National Tuberculosis Association and allied organizations. In this state the work is handled by the Ohio Public Health Association. Each penny will help protect public health by an educational campaign against disease. The great results from the penny seals indicate that more seals are sold. Important as are the results achieved, they are but a promise of the more important work the future holds if the work is carried on. If you buy you are helping. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal makes its own appeal.

sweeps the bowels naturally, cleansing and purifying the intestinal tract without irritation or discomfort! Believe, too, that the regular use of Kellogg's Bran will clear up a family's complexion and it will free the breath from disagreeable stomach odors. At least two tablespoons should be eaten daily, and as much more as needed for relief of chronic cases. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious served as a cereal, or it can be sprinkled over your favorite cereal. Its nutty flavor adds a delightful note to breakfast. Kellogg's Bran is delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, gravies, etc. Start the family eating Kellogg's Bran tomorrow morning! Kellogg's Bran will actually build up the kiddies into fine, robust health!

Ironton Manager Comes After Team's Portion Of Sunday's Receipts; He Returns Empty Handed

William Schachleiter, manager of the Ironton, Tanks, and Capt. Trotter moved to this city today, confident that they would get their share of last Sunday's receipts. They were told that their contract was flagrantly violated and that the only way they could get their money was to institute legal proceedings for it.

"Well, we have engaged Attorney Edgar Miller and will take this step on," Schachleiter said.

"Yes, and you can say we will not be long about it," Capt. Trotter said as he and Schachleiter and two other Ironton men climbed into their machine, which was parked in Government Square and left for Tunktown.

They called on Manager Doerr of the Blue and White team, but they found him not yielding an inch and it took like if Ironton is to get any part of Sunday's receipts they will get it through legal channels and not voluntarily from the Smokehouse management.

"They deliberately broke their contract and haven't a leg to stand on. We voted to force them to go to court to get their money and we will stand pat," several members of the local team said.

Schachleiter says he has the name of a Portsmouth man who offered Hammond $200 for the signals he used in Sunday's game. Not a man in Portsmouth knew Hammond was to play until he showed up on the field. He had played here with Ashland and did not show so much, and that is why Capt. Chinn graciously waived the right for him to play.

But Manager Schachleiter did not say a word about playing or Shannon. He steadfastly stuck to his original statement that he did not have another rider in the lineup except Hammond. He knew better because Hammond, which is a violation of your contract, but no other players,"

Chinese Courts May Not Permit The Abolition of Extra Territorial System

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The arms conference discussion of Far Eastern questions shifted today to the possibility of abolishing the system of "extra territorial rights," under which the powers maintain their own judicial agencies in China for the trial of cases in which their respective nationals are involved.

China wants the extra territorial privilege abolished altogether, although her delegates have indicated doubt whether the present judicial machinery of the Chinese government would make it possible to withdraw the foreign tribunals immediately. All the other nations concerned have expressed a hope that something can be done toward modifying the present system, but have evidenced in the main a feeling that nothing of a very sweeping character in that direction is warranted just now.

The session of the nine delegations sitting as a committee of the whole to discuss the extra territoriality problem, was the only meeting of the conference or its subdivisions on today's program the questions of land and naval armament having again gone into temporary eclipse, while experts prepare their opinions as to details. It was thought by some of the delegates that the committee deliberations might also reach the subject of leases during the day, bringing into the discussion the troublesome questions of Shantung and Manchuria.

Meanwhile, the clash of opinion between the Chinese and some of the British spokesmen over the meaning of the four Root principles continue as a subject of speculation in conversations among individual delegates. The question of interpreting the Root principles has not yet come directly before the sessions of the conference, however, and may not be raised formally until the discussions reach a point requiring application of the principles to specific cases.

BROKER CONFESSES TO COUNTERFEITING $1,500,000 IN FRENCH SECURITIES

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23.—G. V. Halliday, a broker whose firm recently went into bankruptcy with liabilities listed at $140,000, confessed early today, according to the police, that he had counterfeited $1,500,000 in interim certificates of French government bonds, and that he had passed $80,000 worth of them on St. Louis banks in an effort to liquidate his losses.

Halliday, editor of a bi-monthly magazine here, and Paul Murphy, a magazine solicitor, are held in connection with the case. All were arrested last night.

In his confession, police say, Halliday claims he had placed $43,000 in negotiations with one bank, and an additional $20,000 in another bank, on which he borrowed approximately $22,000.

At the present time Halliday is under seven indictments based on allegations that he had accepted money for securities and failed to deliver them. In his confession, as given out by police, Halliday says:

"I alone am guilty of the entire affair. Turner and Murphy, under arrest with me, are merely incidental figures in the case and never had any knowledge of my transactions. I had the bonds printed and thought it would be easy to include these in a $100,000,000 issue which J. P. Morgan and Company had bought in June for negotiations with one bank, and an

They say this is the largest "hot dog" sandwich in the world and that it took two Newfoundland dogs to make the sausage. At any rate, a pup Stern made a gallant attempt to eat it all in 20 minutes. He lost the bet. This, at "Max's Busy Bee" in Park Row, New York.

WHO WILL KEEP "THE OPEN DOOR" IN CHINA OPEN? PROBLEM AT BOTTOM OF FAR EAST MUDDLE

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Who will keep the "open door" in China open? How will the four principles written by Elihu Root and now adopted by all the nine Powers interested in the Far East be enforced?

These questions touch the most delicate phase of the whole Far Eastern problem and on their settlement, it now is admitted by some of the spokesmen of the foreign governments, depends the success of the conference.

Number One of Mr. Root's principles carries a mutual pledge that "it is the firm intention of the Powers" to respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China.

The famous Article Ten of the covenant of the League of Nations was weakened in the United States Senate because it carried a mutual pledge "to respect and preserve the territorial integrity" of the Powers who signed it and contained moreover a promise that these Powers would consult with each other and advise upon the means of carrying out the pledge.

The Chinese delegates originally proposed that the first principle should read "to respect and observe" the territorial integrity of China but Mr. Root carefully eliminated the word "observe" as perhaps too close to the word "preserve."

There is much comment in conference quarters on the significant omission of all reference to means of compelling an enforcement of the four Root principles which include not merely respect for China's territorial integrity and independence but a promise of the Powers to "use their influence for the purpose of establishing and maintaining the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce and industry of all nations throughout the territory of China."

No specific mention is made as to what the word "influence" means to what it is commonly interpreted as diplomatic and moral influence rather than physical coercion. The United States Government through John Hay secured the same pledge from all the powers to respect and preserve the open door in China but the archives of the Department of State are full of protests sent by this Government to violations of the Hay "open door" principle.

What is proposed moreover in this conference is simply an executive declaration and not a solemn treaty and the several foreign officials here already have asked what value such an executive statement of policy by the United States will have under a succeeding administration for it is true that some of the Knox-Taft policies and declarations about China were upset by the Bryan-Wilson administration and were later reversed by the Lansing-Wilson policies. The Harding-Hughes expressions are no less submitted to the Senate and as such have a value only as long as the present administration is in power. Some of the foreign delegations have raised the point therefore, as to whether it would not be better to have a treaty or convention drawn up which would be more formidable than a mere executive declaration.

The White House has made it clear that the President feels there is a difference between an "understanding" on policy and an agreement carrying in it "an obligation." The latter would be submitted by Mr. Harding to the Senate but it will be noted that the Root principles carefully refrain from including any obligation on the part of the United States to preserve either the territorial integrity and administrative independence of China, or the

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" Breaks any Cold in a Few Hours

Instant Relief! Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up.

The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages of head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest, relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist upon Pape's.—Advertisement.

May Visit Murder Scene

LOS ANGELES, November 25.—A visit by the judge and jury to Beverly Glen, near here, where J. Dalton Kennedy, broker, is alleged to have been murdered, will be asked by attorneys for Arthur C. Burch, charged with the crime, it became known in connection with the resumption of Burch's trial today.

They said they anticipated no opposition from the prosecution on such a motion, but added that if their wish was denied, they would endeavor to equipt the court with the geography of the scene of the alleged murder through photographs.

The resumption of the trial today, after the Thanksgiving recess, found nine women and two men temporarily passed as jurors.

To Fight For Freedom Of Two Italians

ROME, November 25.—Replying to a statement issued by Richard Washburn Child, the American ambassador, that the case of Sacco and Vanzetti was outside the jurisdiction of the American federal government, the national committee formed recently to fight for their freedom, has issued a statement declaring they were restricted on insufficient evidence.

The statement, which was published prominently by all the newspapers in Rome, declared there was "not one witness who was sure and decisive" in the trial of the two men, who were convicted last summer of murder by a Massachusetts court.

"The results of lives of the American police," continued the statement, "will fall like the famous Castle of Paper. The workmen of the world are following the case of Sacco and Vanzetti and await to see them restored to liberty and to see justice done."

Destroyed the Evidence.

There are times when unscrupulous such as the black cat fulfill their function as luck bringers. There is a true story of Candy, the mascot of the emperor of India. One day a marine was in trouble for leaving grease in a frying pan and appeared at "captain's headquarters." The pan was handy on the quarterdeck as evidence, and there also was Candy, sniffing the morning breeze. The defaulter did not attempt to deny the offense, but the evidence had to be produced, and when the can was handed to the captain, behold! it was a burnished silver. The captain looked at the pan, then at Candy complacently licking his chops. The charge, of course, fell through, and his chums declared that Candy smiled as he trotted back to the galley.—Manchester Guardian.

Remarkable Whiskers.

A hair-raising adventure is recounted by a London actor, Arthur Bourchier, who once, being cast for the part of Henry VIII, determined to grow a beard suitable for the role. He took a three-weeks' vacation and retired into darkest Cornwall upon this mission, emerging at the end of the period with considerable progress visible. However, it seemed best to repair to a hairdresser for a little hasty treatment. All went well until one week-end at Northumberland, when Mr. Bourchier decided to bathe in the sea. Alas for the chemistry of ocean waters mingled with hair tonic—his whiskers when he next beheld them were a dazzling green! He returned to London in haste, with head bowed, and before the play was presented the hairdresser was able to apply countermine chemicals enough to give him a less striking appearance.

Medicine Cabinets.

The most attractive medicine cabinets for the bathroom wall come from the old town of Nuremberg, where they are hand carved and painted to imitate the fronts of ancient houses of that quaint town with their characteristic gables and chimneys.

Three-Ply Glass.

A fortune is said to await the person who shall invent a flexible, unbreakable glass. "Armored glass," so called because it contains a netting of galvanized iron wire and is not easily broken into small pieces, is too heavy and too nearly opaque for most uses. There is a glass called "three-ply," which has been used in France. Although it is neither flexible nor unbreakable, it has certain advantages over other kinds. It is composed of two panes of glass, with a thin sheet of transparent celluloid pressed between them and made to adhere to them by hydraulic pressure. Tests have shown that a blow hard enough to shatter ordinary glass and to drive the pieces for some distance merely cracks the three-ply glass. It has been found useful for motorcars, omnibuses, railway cars and other fast-moving public conveyances.

Stillwell Hearing Deferred Till Tuesday

When Charles Stillwell appeared in Municipal court Friday to meet a charge of fighting Oscar B. Meyer, of 825 Front street, he pleaded not guilty. Meyer failed to appear and Judge McCall continued the cases for hearing next Tuesday.

The trouble occurred at Second and Chillicothe streets. Wednesday night, and it is claimed it grew out of an argument over Meyer working at the steel plant. Stillwell was released on his own recognizance with orders to appear at the trial next week.

In Honor Of Plucky Team

700 Couples

Earl Fuller's New York orchestra, to play here for the Masonic dance to-night, played for over 700 couples in Baesman's dance hall at Huntington on Thanksgiving night.

Mrs. Frank Walters, who has been a patient in a local hospital was Friday moved to her home, 1416 Summit street in the Windel ambulance.

Admits That He Received Many Promises

MANCHESTER, Nov. 25. H. A. Gas-kins has filed his expense account in the three cornered contest for mayor of Manchester in which 500 votes were cast. He says: "I received nothing but 629 promises of support and have on hand 493 promises; I thank the noble 200 and will forgive the 493 until a convenient season."

Infirmary Inmates Fare well

Roast beef, scalloped oysters, creamed potatoes, dressing, celery, baked apples, pumpkin pie and ice cream formed the menu Thanksgiving day at the County Infirmary where thirty-nine men and women are receiving care. ## SUPPORTERS OF RIVER ROUTE MUST GET BUSY; TO SELECT A DEFINITE ROAD

The Cincinnati Enquirer of local interest Thursday said:
Through the urging of the Chamber of Commerce it is expected that data concerning the advantages of the river route on the proposed Atlantic-Pacific highway between Cincinnati and Portsmouth will be submitted during the next few days for the consideration of the officials and directors of the association.
The advocates of the route running through the more central section of Clermont, Brown and Adams counties have already submitted report on the advantages of their highway.
And as soon as the supporters of the route which follows the Ohio river present their claims the respective reports will be taken under consideration and an early selection made.

A Real Dinner

W. T. Bieriely, C. and O. operator in South Portsmouth put his feet under the family table in Maysville yesterday and enjoyed a real turkey dinner.

MANCHESTER, O., Nov. 25.—Hershel Floyd Taylor, 27, former resident here, was killed at Cincinnati when his motorcycle skidded against a light pole. When found by police they thought that he had been shot on account of a bullet wound in his leg. The wound proved to be an old one. Burial was at Moore's chapel today.

Students To Present "Nothing But Truth"

"The Revelers" are planning to give Portsmouth another glimpse of High School activities on December 2 and 3. Perhaps "The Revelers" need an introduction as this organization is the High School's newest acquisition. It was organized late last spring as a Senior Dramatic Society to aid those ambitious ones who desire the beneficial training secured from this type of work. The new infant organization grew so rapidly that the full session found it hale, hearty and enthusiastic. At the present time it is blossoming forth into approaching maturity and will be ready for its debut in Portsmouth society next week.

The play will be given two evenings, by two different casts. The casts are well selected and those who have had an opportunity to see these people practice have departed thoroughly enthusiastic and are now urging the public to prepare for a full evening of clean, wholesome, humorous entertainment. The casts, which are composed of some of our best known Seniors, are as follows:

Bring Your Ills, Have 'Em Cured—Fee's Only $1

BY ALICE ROHE
NEW YORK, Nov. 25—Glowing eyes?

Or a sore throat?
Or a cold?
Or heart disease?
You can get treatment for these or any other malady at the Cornell University Medical College "pay clinic" here for $1.

The clinic's been started to provide medical care for people of moderate means. The extremely poor can go to free clinics. But pride often bars them to others.

I found the people flocking through Cornell's open doors to health proved the need of the pay clinic.

"My eye," said a young woman in a trim blue tailored suit.

"Oh, yes," replied the hostess in the receiving room, "just register there and someone will take you to the eye specialist."

"My little girl," a neatly dressed young mother with a prettily dressed child—obviously wife and daughter of some modestly salaried clerk—approached. They were sent to the register and then escorted to the children's specialists.

A young man with a bandaged face was quickly sent to the department for skin disease. And so on down the list.

Bar Charity Idea
The atmosphere was so different than the usual free clinic.

"Remove the charity idea and the real needs of people will come to the front," said Director Charles E. Neergaard. "There are 2,000,000 people who need skilled care in New York, but who will not accept charity and who cannot pay specialists' fees."

"This is the first comprehensive pay clinic of such general scope to be established. We hope for the cooperation of all medical societies. Naturally the best of specialists are here at the service of patients here. You understand our staff is a paid one. This is not an experimental students' clinic."

"We all know just how the so-called middle class is caught between the two extremes—the pauper for whom free clinics are open—and the rich who can pay for specialists."

"We have 75 physicians here."

Rheumatism Can Be Cured!
But You Must Clear Your Blood of Waste Products

Lack of exercise and improper diet causes waste products to accumulate in the blood. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will become diseased.

Rheumatism, with its pain and agony, is one of the most serious diseases caused by waste products in the blood. You know, of course, the blood is not confined alone to the arteries and veins. It passes out of these channels to all parts of the body. This is how sediments or waste products are deposited in the muscles and joints. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 50 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

Whales May Live 500 Years.

The land animal which lives the longest probably is the tortoise. Under favorable conditions it will live to an age of 350 or 400 years. One died at the London Zoo which was said to have attained the age of 350 years. The ordinary whale lives to be 100 years old. No other animal of the sea lives to be that old.

Why, the Ideal

Briand Takes Sharp Issue

ject of a complete negotiation, which this time may result in an equitable and definite peace in the Orient.

"The British government is well aware that we are all ready, in agreement with England and our other allies, to seize the propitious moment to obtain such a peace."

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Disclaiming any wish to reply to the address in London yesterday of Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister, urging France not to pursue an "isolated and individualistic" policy, Premier Briand, of France, declared before sailing for home today that this was no time for argument between "friends and allies."

He asserted that, notwithstanding the "exceptional" situation of France in Europe, the French government was proposing to go further in limitation of armaments, both on land and sea, than any other nation.

"I do not wish to reply to Lord Curzon's statement for the reason that I haven't the official text," said M. Briand through an interpreter. "I shall pin my faith on the words of Mr. Balfour, pronounced at the last public session of the conference, when he solemnly recognized, as did all the other delegates, that the situation of France in Europe was exceptional and that she had need to take precautions for her security."

"As regards disarmament, France will have gone as far along this road as any other country without exception. In effect, on land, in spite of the dangers which she undergoes, she has already spontaneously reduced her 'metropolitan army' by a third. In spite of the law which keeps three classes with the colors, actually there are only two. Furthermore, the government has introduced a bill in parliament which reduces the period of service by half, and, in consequence, the number of effectives in the same proportion."

"It is much more than the other nations will do as regards navies, since the naval reduction envisaged does not exceed forty per cent."

"Add this: That France, which has 60,000,000 subjects in colonies whose costs are on three seas and which consequently need a navy, has seen her fleet of capital ships reduced by the effects of war from three squadrons to a single squadron. She is prepared on this ground to realize an accord with her friends and her allies for the same proportional reductions."

"Consequently, in the sum totals of her forces of national defenses (land army and sea army) it can be said that France will have made an effort at reduction superior to that of any other nation, and merit will be greater because she is in veritable danger."

"Our English friends ought to recognize the fact that the German fleet is at the bottom of the sea and that consequently it is no longer a menace either for England or for us. But the 7,000,000 men of the German army are still there, very much alive and available. This is a fact that France must realize and consider."

"In conclusion, I have observed with the greatest satisfaction that it is sufficient for me to realize the situation to the American people in order to be understood by the whole world. This permits me to leave for France with a tranquil spirit and a peaceful heart."

World Powers

The following communiqué on the meeting was issued:

"The committee on Pacific and Far Eastern questions met in the Pan-American building, Friday, November 25, at 11 a. m. All the delegates were present except Signor Meda, Baron Shidehara, M. Sarraut and Lord Lee."

"At the opening of the session Mr. Hughes expressed his great regret at the appearance of a report in a Washington paper this morning of alleged happenings at the last meeting of the committee. The report of antagonism with Mr. Balfour was not only untrue, but grotesque and did him the greatest injustice; Mr. Hughes could not imagine how such a rumor had got into circulation. Mr. Balfour expressed his great appreciation of Mr. Hughes' statement, he had never denied that Mr. Hughes would take the view he had just stated, but the manner and words in which that view had been put before the committee had deeply moved him and he wished to express his thanks."

"After a discussion, it was decided to appoint a sub-committee to investigate and report in regard to the question of extra-territoriality in China. In regard to this subject, Mr. Wang Chung-Lin, chief justice of the supreme court of China, made a statement which will appear later."

"The committee then discussed the question of foreign post offices in China, the Chinese minister, Mr. Sze, making a statement which subsequently will be made public."

"Then the committee adjourned to meet at 10:30 Saturday morning, November 26."

"The report which appeared in a Washington paper this morning and referred to in the above communiqué, stated that a proposal was made and favored by the American delegation to keep a record of proceedings of the committee on Far Eastern affairs, so that there might be no later misunderstandings and conflicts of opinion as to what was said and done in the executive meetings of the committee, but that Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, blocked adoption of the proposal."

alleged to have been injured.

But cross-examination has admitted that there is a sharp difference of opinion among authorities as to the cause of bladder rupture.

"Old fashioned Anglo-Saxon modesty" was given by Dr. Shields as a contributing cause of the type of bladder rupture suffered by Miss Kappé.

"However, the bladder is a most remarkably resistant organ," he said, and the "modesty which contributed to bladder injuries was giving way to new conditions calling for more attention to personal health."

disended bladder, he said.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 25.—Conjecture was rife before the opening of Judge Lenderback's court whether Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle would take the stand today in his own behalf in his trial on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of the death of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress. The defense has intimated that Arbuckle would testify either today or tomorrow.

Arbuckle's own story, expected to include a complete and vigorous denial that he injured Miss Rappe at a party in his rooms in the Hotel St. Francis here September 5, probably will conclude the testimony.

A number of witnesses from the Los Angeles film colony, notably Alice Lake, actress, have been subpoenaed by the defense.

Critical Stage

ale Collins and George Duffy (the Sinn Féin delegates) have gone to Dublin to take council with Mr. DeValera and the Dail Eireann cabinet and to receive instruction as to the attitude they are to adopt. They will return to London Saturday night to meet Mr. Lloyd George after he has received Sir James Craig's reply."

The interview between the Ulster premier and Mr. Lloyd George today lasted an hour. Sir James said upon leaving that he did not know whether there would be another conference this afternoon, but that he was going to Belfast tonight.

At today's interview, Mr. Lloyd George was unable to give Ulster assurance that even if he agrees to his proposal, the Sinn Féin would admit the point of allegiance to the king as King of Ireland. Such admission had been refused by the Dail Eireann representatives, who are declared to view Ireland's position solely as that of an independent state, which, however, might make treaties with the other states of the British empire and possibly even acknowledge the king as president of a federation of free states.

This is nothing like the settlement plan the British government had in mind, and it appears that if the Sinn Féin maintains its attitude the negotiations must be broken off, with the prospect of warfare an immediate possibility.

"The effort therefore is being made by the moderate element in Ireland to induce the Sinn Féin to modify its views. It is understood, but so far without effect."

It was learned later that Arthur Griffith would not leave on his trip to Dublin until tonight. As he is the foreign minister in the Dail Eireann cabinet, with no local Irish duties, his

FRANCE

Lord Curzon had in mind, all the time he was speaking, the treaty recently negotiated between France and the Turkish Nationalists, to which Great Britain has taken exception, according to the view in official quarters, and merely used the Washington conference and the French army as the means of driving home the resentment which he feels over the Turkish pact.

France, officials pointed out, has never sought a policy of isolation, from the earliest days of the peace conference having urged an alliance of the United States, Great Britain and France so that France could safely demobilize army with the assurance that an attack by Germany would bring the two countries to her aid.

France is forced to maintain a large army, because the German menace is a real thing, as Premier Briand made clear at Washington.

England, the contention is, has no menace at her very door, and it is unfair to say that the French army should be reduced in the same proportion as Great Britain is willing to reduce her fleet.

Premier Briand will be interpellated by Socialists and possibly by radical members of parliament with regard to the Washington conference as soon as he returns from America.

The Socialists already have given formal notice that they will ask the premier to explain the attitude of the French delegation. Deputy Herriot, leader of the radicals, has expressed dissatisfaction with the position of the French delegation regarding land armament, but is awaiting the decision of the party committee before deciding whether he will interpellate the premier.

The radicals supported the cabinet in the chamber just before Briand sailed for the United States.

Plan For Real Passing Party

Eloise Temple, No. 504, Pythian Sisters, met in regular session last night. The social committee reported they would have a passing party next week and everybody is to bring a present. Refreshments will be served and a good time promised to all who attend. All members of the degree team must be present in order that they will know who will be the permanent team members.

Winkoff's orchestra furnished the music for their dance last night. An unusual large crowd attended and all reported having a good time. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bauer received a box of candy for being the last couple on the floor and Miss Selling the cake in the cake walk.

Shoe Plants Idle One Day

Local shoe factories are busy at this time on many orders and instead of the factories being closed down for the remainder of the week the local plants were just down for the one day, all three, the Selby, Excelsior and Drew plants resuming operations this morning.

DELEGATES DISCUSS WARNING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Lord Curzon's warning to France in his Thanksgiving speech, almost eclipsed the real business of the arms conference today in the personal discussions among the delegates.

Inasmuch as Premier Briand issued a statement concerning it in New York prior to sailing for France, Rene Viviani, who now heads the French delegation, had no comment to make for publication. No other members of the French delegation wish to make statements which could be attributed to them.

STEPS TAKEN TO ENLARGE POLICE FORCE

Real Thanksgiving At Home.

The women of the Home for Aged Women enjoyed a real turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, Thanksgiving Day. The Home received many donations from firms and individuals and also the school children, who made the holiday one of the best ever enjoyed at the institution.

Martha Promised Jail Sentence

For the second time within a week Mrs. Martha Sheets was convicted of obstructing a drainage ditch constructed in front of her premises by the city service department. In Municipal court Friday and Judge McCall fined her $10 and costs. The court scored the defendant for her misconduct in defying the authority of both the police and service departments and promised her a jail sentence if she caused further trouble.

It was learned Friday that Safety Director Si Straus is working on plans which will provide for four additional policemen for the city. He says they have been needed for sometime and council at its next meeting may take up the question of enlarging the police force. Mayor Gableman and Mr. Straus are convinced that more policemen for the winter months are absolutely needed.

THEATRICAL

Vaudeville at Sun
The vaudeville and moving picture program at the Sun yesterday made a big hit. The vaudeville acts, four in number, are the best ever offered local theatre patrons. Force and Williams comedy impersonators made the biggest hit of the bill. Miss Williams is an impersonator extraordinary and has yet to find her equal on the stage. Crystal and Anderson in a comedy mixup are also good and their act yesterday brought a scream from the big audience. The Musical Vans are clever with their various instruments, while the Malecons have something out of the ordinary in their house acrobatic stunts. The five reel photoplay is a Paramount feature "The Sea Wolf", Special children's matinee Saturday.

Arms Envoys May Adjourn For Xmas

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 25. —(By the Associated Press)—Belief was gaining ground today among foreign delegation that the armament and Far Eastern conference might adjourn the first fortnight of December to give time to the delegates to go home for Christmas.

Some members of the delegations have already secured passage aboard the Aquitania, sailing from New York on December 13. In the interval of the adjournment the committees and sub-committees of experts would continue their work to have precise resolutions ready on the re-assembling of the conference.

NEW COAT IN GRAY AND HENNA

By MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK—In this day and age when fashion has free range for originality, it demands a decidedly fertile mind to create complete novelty. The voluminous-sleeved coat for example has the new side-pleated effect in the skirt. The coat, created by Harry Collins who designed Mrs. Harding's inaugural wardrobe, is of henna cloth. The shawl collar and cuffs which edge the "almost"-sleeves are of gray squirrel. A big button of the fur holds this wrap coat in place. Gray felt lines the cuffs and collar and shows at the edges of the coat. The hat is of pearl-gray felt, embroidered about the brim with a band of gray silk buttons of the same shade. The combination of henna and gray is one of the smartest color alliances this season.

Clouds Two Miles Long.
We speak of "heavy" thunderclouds, but it is difficult to realize that anything floating in the air is in actual fact heavy even when it is about to precipitate many tons of rain upon the earth. Clouds, indeed, have weight, for all of them contain water in suspension. A big thundercloud may be two miles long and broad and three miles high. If it is a continuous mass composed of water vapor to the point of saturation, it represents 200,000 tons of water suspended in the air. Nature's pumping engines have raised that great quantity of water from the sea and the earth, and the cloud itself contains in "energy of position" exactly the power expended in raising that water. The cloud is, in fact, a reservoir of great capacity, perhaps 5,000 feet above the ground level.

As to Buying.

Whatever we wish to buy, we ought first to consider not only if the thing be fit for us, but if the manufacture of it be a wholesome and happy one; and if, on the whole, the sum we are going to spend will do as much good in this way as it would if spent in any other way.—Ruskin.

Just Try It.

See about doing good to somebody, put on your hat, and go visit the sick and the poor; inquire into their wants and minister to them. Seek out the desolate and oppressed. I have often tried this medicine, and always find it the best antidote for a heavy heart.—John Howard.

"Columbarium."

The name arose from a fancied resemblance to a dove-cote in the rows of niches in the walls of sepulchral chambers in Roman burial places, intended to receive the little urns or sarcophagi of marble or terra cotta containing the ashes of the deceased; and finally to the chamber itself. Tombs of this description were chiefly used by the poorer classes who could not afford separate tombs, and were erected by great families for their slaves or dependents, or by funeral associations or corporations under the empire. Several perfect examples have been found near Rome, among them those of the Vigna Codini at the Licinian Gardens. Others exist at Naples and elsewhere in Italy. The "ustina" or places for incinerating the bodies were attached to the columbaria. In recent times the term "columbarium" has been applied to the room or hall connected with the crematory and provided with niches for cinerary urns.

These girls aren't wearing wigs because they haven't beautiful hair. They've just been admitted to the bar and are following the time-honored custom followed by brother barristers. They are Miss A. K. S. Deverell, left, and Miss M. Kyle, the first two women to be called to the bar in Ireland.

"Grey" in Greyhound.

A greyhound isn't necessarily gray and to determine how he came by that name one has to turn to Ireland. "Greyhound" is derived from the Teutonic "grey," meaning a dog, the rest of the name being descriptive of the kind of dog. This variety of the canine species is fleet of foot and is useful chiefly in hunting. There are Russian, Turkish, Scotch, Irish and Italian greyhounds, and all have the same characteristics as to form but vary in color. They are universally considered as the most fleet of all dogs.—Cleveland News-Leader.

Self-Effacing.

Lifting yourself by your boot straps seems easy compared with the feat of the marsupials that the teacher in Harper's Magazine questioned Johnny about. "What are marsupials?" she asked the little fellow. "Animals that have pouches in their stomachs," came the quick reply. "And for what purpose do they use the pouches?" continued the teacher, ignoring the slight inaccuracy of the reply. "I am sure you know that, too." "Yes," said Johnny promptly. "The pouches are for them to crawl into and conceal themselves when pursued."—Youth's Companion.

SHALL WE KILL EVERY CAT IN U.S.? BITTER WAR WAGED OVER FELINES

Protect 'Em, She Says

MRS. GEORGE D. KESSLER
By MRS. GEO. KESSLER
National Secretary, American Cat Association

CATS are the most gentle of creatures. They are embellishments to a household and the most model of pets.

What can equal the grace and poise of a cat as it marches with the step of an aristocrat? What other animal is so clean in habits?

The services of cats cannot be overestimated. They rid homes, granary and store of rats and other vermin. They are comforters to the spinster. They are unflinching friends to those who love and care for them.

There is something about a cat that arouses instincts of gentleness and kindness in those who are fond of them.

Cats do not suck the breath from infants. Nor do they maraud the nesting places of birds as much as has been represented.

The person who dislikes cats has something harsh in his nature. For cats are the essence of refinement.

One seldom sees a pedigreed cat despoiling or ravaging. It is the common alley variety that does most of the harm.

Instead of killing cats, let us bring laws into being that will make responsible persons care for them.

There is no need in butchering these helpless things. Instead let us all lend a hand to see that cats generally suffer less and thereby make them more useful.

No well cared for cat kills birds. It is the eternally hungry variety that does the mischief.

And when a cat kills a bird its instincts are commanding it to do so in the preservation of its own life.

Kill 'Em All, He Says

ROCKWELL SAYRE
By ROCKWELL SAYRE
The Enemy of the Cat

ABOLITION of cats, as a sanitary and health protecting measure is now imperative. Cats have no more place in the world than cockroaches, mosquitos or flies.

The present movement to be done with cats is gaining popularity all over the world—cats are now being exterminated everywhere rapidly. Why? No other animal has as many diseases as the cat.

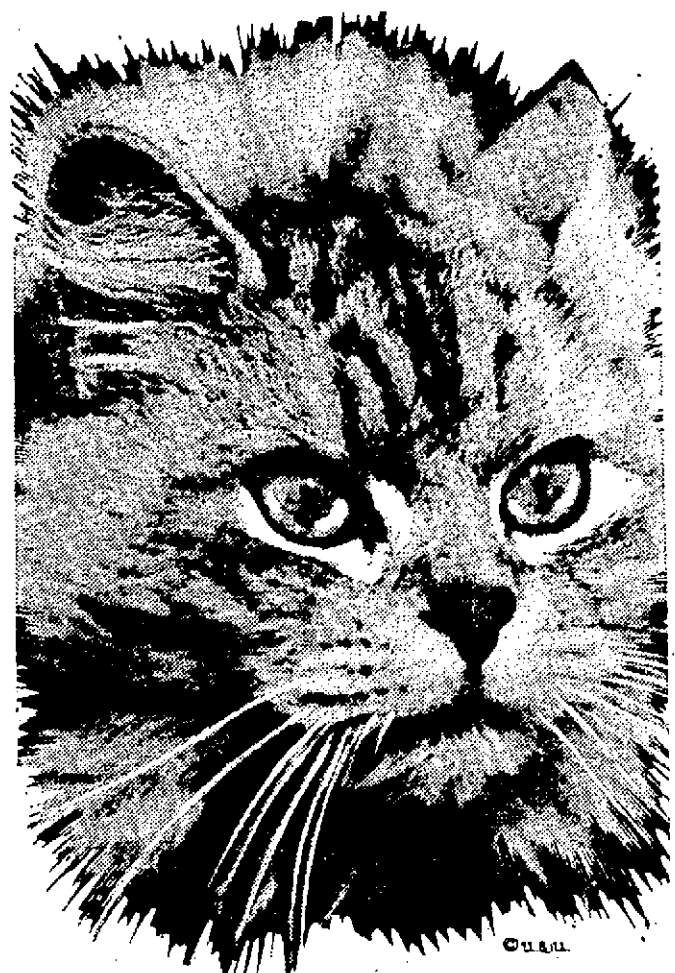

A cat will push its nose far down into the throat of an infant and suck his breath until the baby dies.

A cat will jump upon the corpse and tear the face of the dead.

A cat will return in the morning from sneaking about old houses, sheds and garbage, and vomit maggots on the dining room floor.

Cats are given more credit for catching mice than they deserve.

Keeping a cat is tending to deprave

By ROY GIBBONS

CHICAGO—To kill cats or not to kill? That question has unleashed two bitterly opposed factions which are waging a fierce war that's rapidly taking on nationwide significance.

On the one side stands Rockwell Sayre, millionaire Chicago investment broker and cat hater. Sayre preaches "Down with all cats."

And he doesn't limit his activity to preaching. He's issued thousands of pamphlets at his own expense, headed with the bold type slogan: "A Catless World in 1925."

And, more than that, Sayre for 10

The greatest destroyer of song birds is the cat. Upon test it has been found that cats kill song birds at the rate of 55 birds a cat every year.

Killing cats is the most popular movement ever started, and the jolliest. Everybody smiles and kills cats and then smiles. Smiles come first and smiles come last, and cats pass between. Song birds, success and character remain.

the remnants of the cat race left from Sayre's 10 years' relentless slaughter.

Mrs. Kessler says if all other means fail she'll ask the courts to restrain Sayre's campaign. And answering Mrs. Kessler's call to arms cat owners throughout the country are flocking to the cat standard.

But meanwhile Sayre's legions growl through the alleys, shotgun in hand. Every morning Sayre's mail doorstep is piled high with the corpses of cats. While the hunters pick up the cats, the cats are well lined with dimes.

And Tabby has taken refuge beneath the sofa where she'll await the outcome.

PASADENA, CAL., Nov. 25.—Announcement was made for the Tournament of Roses Association today that football teams of Cornell University of Ithaca, N. Y., and the University of California, of Berkeley, would be invited to play the annual New Year's East-West game at Tournament field this season.

SUPPOSED ROBBER RELEASED
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 25.—Columer Fadale, who was arrested several days ago by the United States marine guard on a Baltimore and Ohio railroad train and who was sentenced to serve ten days in jail by a city magistrate, was discharged today by request of federal authorities. The government officials said that after an investigation they were convinced that Fadale had no intention of robbing the mail train, but was merely "beating" his way.

As Fadale stepped from the police station today he was met by George Clines, of Sedalia, Mo., who said he was on the same mail train, had crawled under the coach and held on to the rods when the guard fired his shot gun.

MARINES GUARD OHIO MAIL TRAINS
COLUMBUS, O., November 25.—Government officials announced today that United States marines are now on duty on all mail trains operating in and through Ohio. They have replaced ex-service men who were hurriedly employed last week as emergency guards on mail trains. Marines also will be placed on guard at important stations where large amounts of mail are handled.

The Elements of Joy.
The delights of thought, of truth, of work, and of well doing will not descend upon us like the dew upon the flower, without effort of our own. Labor, watchfulness, perseverance, self-denial, fortitude, are the elements out of which this kind of joy is formed. —S. C. Jones.

P. H. S. TEAM WINDS UP SEASON GLORIOUSLY. BEAT THE ACQUINAS HI TEAM OF CAPITAL CITY, 6 TO 0

HAT determination which is necessary for the winner was possessed by the P. H. S. high school warriors when they went into the game with Aquinas high of Columbus Thursday afternoon on Millbrook field, and the determination with which they fought won them the game by a 6 to 0 score.

The local eleven outplayed the heavy visitors in all departments of the game except punting but the kicking end of the game did not play any great part in the contest.

Aquinas put a heavier team on the field and expected to bow to over the lighter P. H. S. line and score easily, but such was not to be the local stopping almost every play attempted by the visiting eleven. The visitors lay claim to the northern high school conference championship and it was quite a feather in the caps of the local team to turn in a victory. Their playing yesterday did not stamp them as a championship eleven. Coach Mike Inland of the visiting eleven sending in no less than six new players in an effort to stop the steady gains of P. H. S. The fact that P. H. S. made its gains on the same criss-cross tackle play shows that the visitors were caught asleep at the switch. The play was worked time after time for nice gains and after being stopped once or twice should have been stopped by the visitors.

It was a P. H. S. day and the locals were not to be denied victory in order to bring to a close a most successful season. P. H. S. expected a hard battle to win but after they had played most of the first half in the visitors' territory the local line made up their minds to send the Columbus lads and their green sneakers back home defeated. The way the locals played in the last half plainly showed they had the better team.

Every one of the locals was fighting hard, the line showing wonderful staying power by holding almost every Columbus play without a gain. The visitors were thrown for bigger losses than they gained, the local line men getting through and spilling the play before it even got a good start. The wet and muddy field hampered the players on both sides, the visitors making some costly fumbles. Their main fault seemed to be at quarterback. Coach Boland using three players in this position during the game. The locals had been practicing on a muddy field most of the week and were in better shape to play on the mud soaked ground yesterday than their opponents.

The only score came in the early part of the fourth quarter after P. H. S. had the ball on their opponent's 6 inch line and they failed to carry it over. Columbus punted from behind their goal to the 20 yard line where the locals put the ball in play and from which point they carried it over, due mainly to the fine work of Peggy Ellsesser who went through the visitors line for about 12 yards on two downs. A five yard penalty for off side gave the locals an advantage and from the two yard line Fullback Brant went over for a touchdown, the Aquinas line willing before the onslaught this time instead of holding like a stone wall. The locals were determined to put the ball over and the line men bore a big hole in the Columbus line for the punting Brant. Ellsesser failed to kick goal.

local halfbacks made some nice gains on line smashes, the field being in no condition for long end runs. Pride at quarterback handled the team in fine style and mixed up the plays in a way that kept the visitors guessing.

P. H. S. made one nice pass for a gain of 22 yards, Brock making about 8 yards after catching the ball. Brant also captured several Aquinas passes. The visitors completed only one pass and it was good for only 7 yard gain.

Outside of the punting game the visitors showed up well in running down under their own punts the local receiver being tackled about as soon as he caught the ball.

The game by periods:

FIRST QUARTER

Captain Cressy won the toss and elected to receive. P. Manning kicked off for Aquinas. Brock received and ran back setting yards before being tackled. Brant made one through right tackle. O'Connor recovered. Ball to Aquinas on 38 yard line. Monk spoiled an end run, throwing the ball to Maher. Maher for a three yard loss. Hanning made one through left guard. ## SECOND QUARTER

Geygan punted 50 yards, the ball taking a bad bounce and rolling past P. H. S. Cuffliffe punted 15 yards in return. Geygan gained three through right tackle. Burns went in for Maher at half and Sheridan for Sault at quarter. Burns was thrown for an eight yard loss. He fumbled the ball. Geygan recovering. Brant intercepted an Aquinas pass. Cuffliffe was out for a ten yard loss by W. O'Connor. Cuffliffe punted 10 yards. Burns gained three and Hanning was stopped in his tracks. Burns annexed three more around Monk's end. A pass by Geygan was hurried by the P. H. S. line and it was incomplete and the ball reverted to P. H. S. P. H. S. went in for Brant at fullback. P. H. S. made two yards. Aquinas was penalized five yards for offside play. First down Portsmouth. Cuffliffe made a nice run around end for an eight yard gain as the half ended.

THIRD QUARTER

Sault went back at quarter for Aquinas, replacing Sheridan. Cuffliffe kicked off to Hanning who made a neat 20 yard return. Burns gained two through right tackle while Hanning failed to gain. Another pass from Geygan to Burns was grounded. Geygan punted 20 yards to P. H. S. who made a nice 15 yard return. Cuffliffe made a nice yard through right tackle. McKoon went in for Brown. P. H. S. punted 20 yards to Sault. Hanning made five yards around right end. Ellsesser went in for Cuffliffe. Burns was stopped without gain by Cressy. Brant intercepted another Aquinas pass. Brant replaced P. H. S. Ellsesser grounded a pass. The fastest play of the game was punted when Brock punted a pass from Moritz out of the air for a 22 yard gain. McKoon went in for Sault at quarterback. P. H. S. made a yard on a fake end run. Ellsesser gained two around right end. P. H. S. made two on an end run and P. H. S. pass over the goal was in the 20 yard line. Hanning made a complete, the ball going to Aquinas on the 20 yard line. Hanning made two yards through the line. Phillips recovered an Aquinas backfield fumble. Maher went in for Burns and Sheridan for McKoon.

FOURTH QUARTER

P. H. S. changed goals determined to put the ball over for a touchdown. Brant made five yards on a fake play through right tackle. Moritz made a dash through right guard. Ellsesser went through tackle for four yards and a first down. Moritz gained three on a crossback. Brant took the ball to within a yard of the goal. P. H. S. took the ball to within six inches of a score on a quarterback sneak. The Aquinas line held like a wall and Brant failed to carry it over on a smash against guard. Geygan punted to P. H. S. who received on the 19 yard line. Ellsesser drove through tackle for three yards. Aquinas was penalized five yards. On a driving smash through tackle Ellsesser carried the ball to within two yards of the goal, from where Brant took it over on the next play. Ellsesser failed to kick goal. McKoon went in for McKoon. Cuffliffe kicked off to Geygan who picked the ball from the ground and made a three yard return. Murphy replaced Maher at halfback. Murphy grounded two passes and Moritz intercepted a third but fumbled. Geygan punted 37 yards to Moritz who was downed in his tracks. P. H. S. fumbled but recovered for a two yard loss. Ellsesser failed to gain. Brant punted 48 yards to Sheridan who fumbled the ball, fumbled, recovered, fumbled again and again recovered. Cressy was penalized 15 yards for holding. Another long pass was incomplete and Aquinas gained one yard on a short pass as the game ended.

Fate of Heine Groh in Doubt

Where will Heine Groh, star third sacker of the Cincinnati Reds, play next year?

Groh has already answered the question as far as Cincinnati is concerned. When Judge Landis ordered Groh to report to Cincinnati and finish the season of 1921, Groh said he would finish, but never start another.

It is stated on good authority that he would have been a member of the Giants, last year, had not Judge Landis said he must play in Cincinnati or nowhere. McGraw was ready to take him over. In fact McGraw's readiness to meet Groh's demands is said to be one reason why he held out so long on reporting to Cincinnati.

Now that McGraw is the manager of the world champions, he says Groh is not needed. That sounds like the bank. He will probably be with the Giants next year.

On the other hand, it is said that Pittsburgh is anxious to secure the crack third sacker and that Barney is ready to offer some of his stars, who are in bad favor in the Smoky City, for Groh.

Army And Navy Clash Saturday

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Army and Navy football squads alternated today at the Polo grounds in maneuvering through drill drills for the annual game between the service eleven tomorrow. The Annapolis team having arrived in the city yesterday, spent the forenoon in practice, while the Army squad, which came in from West Point today, had the afternoon for work.

Head Coach Daly, of West Point, in announcing his tentative line-up last night, did not include French, the star backfield man, but French was out for drill today and it was evident that he was being groomed for action at some time during the game. Coach Polivell, of the Navy, announced he would start the regular line-up, but that there would be some changes in the backfield at the outset.

The game is attracting a great throng of admirers to New York. Members of the cabinet, army and navy officers, the diplomatic corps and certain delegates to the disarmament conference, senators and congressmen are expected for the big contest.

HUNTINGTON HI

BEATEN, 6 TO 0

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., November 25.—As the gathering darkness settled over Marshall Field yesterday afternoon, ending one of the most strenuous football gridiron grinds of the 1921 season, the "Fighting Greys" sporting the Green and White colors of the Greenbrier Military School, battered and ploughed their way through the barricade of Red and Blue swimmers of Huntington High for a well deserved victory of 6 to 0. That is the score that will go down in football history as the climax of a Thanksgiving Day ruse which marks the finale of both teams. Footballly speaking, High had little to be thankful for.

Despite the cold drizzling rain, which fell intermittently, more than 1200 frenzied football enthusiasts journeyed to the famous field to witness twenty-two rain-soaked, mud-splattered athletes scrap it out on a gridiron that was more suitable for steamboats than football.

Hearn Wins

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—Eddie Hearn, of Los Angeles, won the 2.0 mile auto race here Thursday and Thos. Milton, second took the lead in the national championship on seasonal points.

Frank Elliott took third place. Roscoe Sables, contending against Milton for the championship, was forced out of the race in the 190th lap.

Jimmy Murphy finished fourth and Harry Hartz took fifth place.

Jackson Beaten

The Wellston and Jackson eleven met yesterday in a hot game, as there is keen rivalry between the two. Wellston won 24-0 from the Jackson bunch who recruited Mosler, Shoemaker and Dewey Adams of this city to play with them.

Nomads Ready For Holy Redeemer Five

The Nomads basketball team held a long, hard practice and scrimmage last night and are in the shape for their game tomorrow night, when they clash with the Holy Redeemer High School five at Moose Hall.

Ted Gordley, who has been out with a bad knee, got into practice last night and may get into the game Saturday.

The Nomads have a new man at center, Don Oakes, and he is showing up well.

The Nomads who have been organized for three years, have sixty-five victories hanging to their belt and will go into the game Saturday night the lighter team, but they hope to match this in speed and team work and their defense is no weak one.

The game will be played in the Moose Hall at 7:30, and admission will be 25 cents.

The Nomads will probably use this lineup:

Ted Gordley (C).....Right Forward
Barber.....Left Forward
Oakes.....Center
Phillips.....Right Guard
Flowers.....Left Guard

In a game which had no hearing on the conference standing, Ohio University and Marietta fought it out to a scoreless tie at Athens.

Pfau's Team Wins

FOSTORIA, O., Nov. 25.—The Fostoria High School football eleven defeated the Lane Tech of Chicago here Thursday 20 to 0. Lane was never dangerous. Fostoria kicked the line for a touchdown in the first five minutes.

Charles Pfau of Fostoria is the assistant coach of the team there, which has beaten all comers. Pfau was here this week and predicted that Fostoria would beat the fast Chicago eleven.

To Defend Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Stanislaus Zyzanski, who will defend his heavyweight wrestling title Monday night in a bout with Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former champion, announced today he expected to retire within a year.

"I intend," he said, "to give all those worthy of a chance a crack at the championship as fast as matches can be arranged. Then I expect to quit." Zyzanski is more than 40 years old and has engaged in 940 matches.

Tanks Too Pretty

The Tronton Tanks evidently were afraid their pretty red uniforms would get soiled yesterday if they played their schedule game with the Morris-Harvey eleven and the game was called off. It will be played in Tanktown on Saturday, December 2.

Game Called Off

The game scheduled yesterday for Orville Roberts-Cervoni-Kenora team against the Ashland Tigers was postponed on account of rain. Tackle Ackroyd of the Smokehouse team here was to referee the game and made a fruitless trip to Ceredo.

Stage Tie Game

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Nov. 25.—Buckhamton lost its opportunity to meet Parkersburg in a post season match for the state high school championship here Thursday when Charleston beat Buckhamton to a six to six tie. Buckhamton's score was annexed when Grimm, field general for the visitors, received a punt on the 35-yard line and raced through the entire Charleston team for a touchdown.

Anti Betting Squad

Busy In Huntington

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., November 25.—Five patrolmen assigned to that duty at the Huntington High-Greenbrier football game at Marshall athletic field yesterday, reported to Chief of Police Cook later that they had seen no betting in progress among the spectators.

The special anti-wager squad was assigned to duty at the Thanksgiving Day contest following instructions from Mayor Campbell asking that drastic action be taken to break up supposed betting at local football games.

Visits Scenic Wonder

Writing from Billings, Montana, where he visited his sister while en route to the Pacific coast on business, Sheriff E. E. Hickey says that he is having an enjoyable time, although the weather is extremely cold, the thermometer registering from 20 to 25 degrees below zero. The sheriff stated that he had made a tour of Yellowstone National Park and saw all of its wonderful scenery. He expected to leave Billings this morning for San Francisco.

Football Has Undergone Rapid Changes

Football has undergone some rapid changes in the last five years.

The forward pass has entirely revolutionized the coaching system. The coach who has failed to keep up with the times is lost.

That is why some of the coaches who were regarded as the last word a few years back, are now failing to deliver. The forward pass has upset a lot of set coaching rules. The coach who has refused to be modern in his methods has suffered.

During the last two or three years the attacking power of the well-coached eleven has reached such a stage of efficiency that coaches no longer try to develop a positive defense against the aerial play.

In order to better must the offensive play, a great many coaches are continually striving to develop what is known as the "threat" player. Such players tend to keep the opposition in the air, because of their ability to do all things well.

The "threat" player is a versatile star who can run, pass and kick with equal skill. Usually he starts all plays from similar formations. This of course makes it very difficult for the opposing team to diagnose what is coming next. Take the recent world game.

series. Babe Ruth was the big threat of the New York Americans. When he passed from the lineup, the Giant pitchers had nothing to worry about.

The "threat" player in football really is the introduction of the change of pace of the ball field to the gridiron. The victory of Centre College over Harvard was an example of the real value of the "threat" player. Harvard expected McMillin to throw a forward pass any time he received the ball. McMillin invariably ran with it through a broken line and once got away for the winning score of the game.

P. H. S. Team Wins 6 Games; Loses 3

Thursday's game with the Aquinas eleven of Columbus gave the P. H. S. team a record of 6 wins and 3 defeats for this season. This is a good record considering that only three lettered men were on the team and practically all the new material was composed of first year men. The locals scored only 55 points while their opponents scored 69. The big score for the opposition was the Huntington game. P. H. S. should have won from Chillicothe and Circleville which leaves only the Huntington eleven as the one which they do not claim they could beat this year.

The season's record was as follows:

Portsmouth 7, New Boston 2.
Portsmouth 7, Tronton 0.
Portsmouth 0, Huntington 23.
Portsmouth 14, Jackson 7.
Portsmouth 7, Circleville 10.
Portsmouth 7, Ashland 6.
Portsmouth 0, Chillicothe 7.
Portsmouth 6, Aquinas 0.

Conference Attendance Records Broken

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—All previous records at Western Conference football games were broken this fall by the totals announced today for some of the schools and for at least five of the schools a new stadium is under construction or in prospect.

Michigan, with her new stadium dedicated this fall, drew 114,000 spectators at five home games, and Chicago, in spite of a seating capacity equal to barely half the demand, drew over 100,000, with receipts totalling over a third of a million dollars.

Ohio State plans to dedicate her new football field next fall. The double deck stands will seat 65,000.

Illinois has collected a large part of the $2,500,000 for her memorial stadium which is to be completed in 1923. At Iowa and Minnesota the question of providing more adequate seating facilities has been broached by the athletic authorities. Coach Jones of Iowa is now in the east studying the eastern athletic fields.

Here Are Winning Elevens

NEW YORK, November 25.—Thanks giving Day football clashes left four of the major college elevens at the best undated this season. Lafayette, Cornell, Penn State and Washington and Jefferson.

Lafayette finished its season last Saturday, but the others brought their campaign to an end yesterday. Cornell softened the memory of bitter defeats by Pennsylvania by carrying their powerful attack to a 41 to 0 victory over the Quakers at Philadelphia; Penn State unexpectedly won a scoreless tie by Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson won from West Virginia at Morgantown, 12 to 0.

Cornell in its eight victories this season was the greatest scoring machine in the east, with a total of 392 points to their opponents' 21. Lafayette had nine victories, 274 points, while their opponents had 26. Penn State won seven games, and besides the tie with Pittsburgh was in a 21-21 battle with Harvard. Their total points were 230 and those of their opponents 49. Washington and Jefferson in nine victories, scored 208 points against their opponents' 21.

May Take Steps

To Fence Field

The proposition of erecting a fence around an athletic field in the city, will be among the matters considered by the Board of Education at its meeting this (Friday) evening.

The athletic officials are supporting the plan and are hopeful it will go through.

Lynch vs. Smith

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Joe Lynch, former world's bantamweight boxing champion, will meet Midget Smith in a ten round contest tonight. Billy DeLoe, of St. Paul, and Andy Chaney, of Baltimore, will be principals in another ten round bout.

Once you use St. Nicholas Flour you will have no other.

MERELY A NEGATIVE EVIL

STRIVING to cut into the place of the Tribune as the most thick and thin defender of all things Republican, the New York Herald is so anguished over the November election, that long after it has passed it cries out in alarm over it and bemoans the fact that it has been a congressional election the despised Democrats would be in control of one-half of one of the branches of government—a calamity almost too dreadful to contemplate. Then it proceeds to give the cause of this frightful revolution in public sentiment and sets down the following:
“The American people elected the present Congress in 1920 to do the things the country sorely needs and to undo the things the country cannot stand. They expected and had the right to expect that these things would be done faithfully, promptly and successfully. After waiting a year the American people have had from this Congress little or none of the performance which was promised them and on which they counted.
“Nothing final done yet about taxation and there is no sign that when something is done it will be anything like what the country needs to get on its feet again. Nothing final done yet about tariff revision and there is no reason to expect that when something is done it will meet the requirements of the new conditions here and the world over. Nothing done yet about getting the national transportation system on a basis where it can do the country's hauling at a cost which will lighten the burden borne by American industry and business. Nothing done yet on many other grave questions which this Congress was elected to deal with and settle.”

Aye, it is true enough congress has been derelict in keeping the party promises and it has been mainly characterized by a doleful course, but for that it should be blamed less than it had had it done something and more. Its inaction was, at the worst, a negative ill; great action on its part, as unwittingly admitted by the Herald in the matter of taxation, would have only made bad matters worse.

IT IS RATHER QUEER

WHEN something like a half dozen precincts had reported their mayorality vote, on the evening of last election day, The Times announced Gableman would have about 1,700 majority.

The official count shows Gableman won by 1686.
How did The Times guess so near it? It wasn't a guess at all, it was just a bit of figuring, an application of the laws of averages. You see those few precincts represented every part of the city. Comparing them with the vote of last year it was seen Gableman was making a certain average gain. That average applied to all the precincts would give him ahead by 1,700. It worked out exactly—estimates never deal in odd figures.

It is rather odd that results should work out that way, but they usually do. Another instance, showing they do, was the giving out by the secretary of state that soldiers' bonus would win out by hundreds of thousands while re-districting and poll tax would be overwhelmingly beaten. Returns to him from several counties, scattered as they were, showed the drift and the prediction was as safe as it was easy.

MORE DIFFICULT PROBLEMS

Secretary Hughes' program for a reduction of naval armaments of his own country and that of Great Britain and Japan, sweeping as it is and admirable as it is, is the easy part of the conference on limitation of armaments now in session. The most difficult phase of its work remains to be done. Far-Eastern problems and others which threaten the peace of mankind still await solution.

Reducing armaments is in itself a comparatively simple thing. It is essentially a materialistic proposal, aimed at the reduction of government expense and taxation. So long as the relative standing of the nations in this regard is preserved, no country suffers an advantage or a disadvantage. As a matter of fact should Mr. Hughes' recommendations be accepted the nations would have about the same naval tonnage they had just a few years ago.

Limitation of armaments leads to great and desirable economic saving, to the conservation of material things, to the reduction of taxation, and for all this, therefore, is to be encouraged and adopted, if possible, but it still leaves untouched the causes of war and the means of preserving peace.

To accomplish this vastly more important mission, something else is needed. To give point and fruition to a limitation of armaments, there must be an agreement not among a few nations but among all nations to submit their disputes to a referee. The vehicle to carry through this project is an association of nations, a league of nations or whatever may be its name. Such an agency is inevitable. It will be based not only on the economic advantages it has for mankind but upon an idealism which is built on something finer than taxes or materialistic considerations and has its foundations resting on justice, fair dealing and good will among nations.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, November 25.—In Madison Square Garden pugilists warriors weekly kiss the resin and listen to the chirp of the pretty birdies. The primitive in man bubbles in a riot of gustatory shouts, yells and screeches. The dilettante rubs elbows with the dilettante, embracing each other in delicious delight when blood spurts.

The arena is run by Tex Rickard and is filled with boxing devotees from the underworld and upper. Many women occupy boxes to cheer the modern troglodytes.

The other night I saw the son of a fighting sire, young Bob Fitzsimmons himself, dripping with gore, beat a stubborn opponent to the canvas. And while Bob poised to deliver the final wallop a short haired girl in dainty evening frock shrieked from a ring side seat: "He smells the flowers, Bob!"

Nerves are astringe. Padded gloves strike flesh with the crack of a rifle shot. The bilious yellow glare from a bell shaped light reveals the strained faces of fighters in an atmosphere of tobacco smoke and human sweat.

Next to me sat a heavy jawed gent with cauliflower ear and beautifully "moussed" eye. In the first round of a preliminary battle a young and puissant pugilist flattened his challenger with a right to the jaw and the droning hum of voices rose to a raucous roar.

"That baby collects the pink satin lined coffin!" shouted my companion as the narrow slit of a puffed eye registered supreme joy. In another fight the gladiators were lapping each other in a difficult-you-chase-me-and-I'll-chase-you sort of way and he cried in a disgusted falsetto: "Too-hoo! Ten is served!"

Swaggering young toughs in caps and belted overcoats keep up a running fire of levitical epithets from upper tiers. Sometimes they have as much as a quarter wagered on the result and nothing but sudden death will satisfy. Between battles there is a promenade—a parade of a motley gathering in which the shiny serge of Second Avenue mingles with the shiny silk of Fifth. The most refreshing thing about it all is the whiff of sea air that sweeps up from the harbor when one reaches the pavé.

In the old days a front row table at Rector's with a bottle of "the imprisoned laughter of the peasant girls of France" in the silver bucket at the side was considered quite the smart thing from the Broadway viewpoint. Now a $5 taxi ride to Weehawken to drink a 25 cent glass of beer in a saloon's back room is considered not only smart but down right cute.

The psychological waiter has been found in an Eighth Avenue restaurant. He swears he knows how to serve a pie plate at an angle acceptable to the ultimate consumer. Everybody likes to manoeuvre his own pie plate but this waiter says it is lost motion. He studies the expression before serving and he gets the angle. Ain't nature grand?

Modesty Note: Rather than try on a pair of shoes with a hole in her stocking, a chic young flapper on Fifth Avenue bought a new pair of silk stockings and changed them while the shoe clerk whistled and watched the avenue traffic from the window.

All night dentistry has made its appearance in the Times Square district. The all night dentist opens his office at midnight and remains until 5 a. m. His patients are night workers and many who are awakened from sleep by a jumping molar. One also says that he has many habitual patients who have need of dental work but didn't have the courage until they got a night out and saw the dental sign.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

By W. G. STELLY

The Stelly Service, Gallipolis, Ohio

Gen. Dawes finds sixty per cent of Washington political job holders more or less inefficient. Economy always ferments out insufficient service. Putting the government on a business basis is bad for dawdlers and shirks. Turn them out. When public office requires the same actual service that business demands, hundreds of millions will be saved.

Garulous Naval Officers
Officers in the navy who do not approve disarmament have been uttering criticisms of the government's policy as specified by Secretary Hughes. These gentlemen forget that they are the servants of the government whose purpose they seek to thwart, and not its masters. There is not the privilege of citizens of the Republic to take part by voice and the ballot in deciding policies. They voluntarily gave over that greatest of the duties of citizenship in peace to become the defenders of the government in time of war. The people, through their president and congress, decide what shall be the nation's course, not the officers of the navy. They may or may not approve the judgment of the people, of the congress, or of the administration, but desert and counter-sense silence most becomes them under such circumstances, particularly when changes in their own branch of national service are proposed by the government.

China's Reasonable Desire
China's wish to manage her internal affairs without interference by any foreign government, to enjoy territorial integrity and political and administrative independence as a free Republic, and to open her doors and give to all nations equal opportunity for commerce and industry in all parts of China, is one which cannot be denied in arrangements for world-wide peace. Ineffective, inexperienced in the arts of war, timid and easily imposed upon, the China of the past has suffered many indignities from avaricious peoples who have exploited her resources to their own profit, and who have sought to have and hold a monopoly of her natural wealth and opportunity. It is time to call them off, encourage general trade with her, and end discriminating favors won by threats. Japan has been a great offender in this respect, and made a great killing at the Paris conference. Her hold on China is a menace. "As you were" should be the decision of the present conference on this matter.

An Epitaph
Medieval beer has been slaughtered in the senate. Its brief life promised no glory to the medicinal profession and profits only to that class of physicians described by the word disreputable. We suspect the treasury order was but an intentional goad to prick the senate into action.

So while bailing another outburst of rage from the small proportion of population whose sin arises from a being, and sets in the snail thereof, we may welcome the sincere intention and determination of congress to make the prohibition amendment effective by not tolerating beverages lawful.

Meanwhile the speedy suppression of the attempt to nullify the amendment rounds one of the epitaph in Cheltenham Cheltenham.

It is soon that I am done for. I wonder what I was begun for!

A man, his wife, their son and a daughter, all committed suicide in their comfortable home because of ill health, in England recently, the father laying each out as they died one after another, and then taking poison himself.

An Acquaintance at Washington?
"Is it strange that the world is happy? Is it strange that politicians, regardless of their private views, fall into line and applaud? There is contagion in a crowd. . . . It looks as if the world is to be reborn again."—William B. Bryan.

Born into happiness through peace contagion. This is Mr. Bryan's view of the conference to date. Somebody asked Bob Ingersoll once how he would go about improving the world. "Well," replied the quick-witted Colonel, "to begin with, I would make health contagious instead of disease." That quieted his critics.

It is our job, not the Almighty's, to make the world a good place to live in. We must work out our own salvation and make blessings contagious. We seem in a fair way to do it along armament lines. When we get war stamped down the righteous contagion will spread in other directions, and presently we shall have a better world. Evolution will be upward and onward. The world will be born again, by us, hope, to an everlasting era of peace on earth and good will toward men.

Always the noble turkey is exalted in the market place as Thanksgiving or Christmas approaches. It is natural that his price should go up when the demand for his attendance at the dining table is greatest. People do not eat turkey all the year around, but on the great national holiday he is by custom and tradition the chief element of the feast. What if he is expensive? It's only once or twice a year the farmer and the commission merchant can clean up on him!

AINT IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING—BY BRIGGS

Luna

(St. Louis Post Dispatch)

Tonight—the moon!
Her light a way,
A royal highway leading back to yesterday—
A thousand yesterdays, perhaps, he-tween.

A vision!
Cool, marble steps, down to a lily point—
I stand in pillared shadow waiting.

In my hand my little sandals.
Hush! Hush!
A first, a lover's first—
For, when the racing moon plunges in, you dark cloud,
I know a hand will touch me—
A warm, strong hand,
And joy will bloom again.
O Luna!
Old as life and young as love,
Along thy way, how many mysteries!

"And so," would up the Sunday school superintendent, "we learn that we should all be missionaries. If you can't go yourself, what should you do?"

"You should send them some money," suggested good little Johnny.

"Flue, flue," beamed the superintendent, "and suppose you haven't any money?"

"Aw, slip 'em a check and beat it," said little Bertie, whose father was a practical man of business.

The season for famous never ends. Lots of men would be good husbands if they had better wives.

While the father's intentions are good, the son usually intends to make some old pitfalls.

Some people are always looking for a new kind of mistake to make.

The bashful lover is always in hot water while trying to break the ice.

Varies With Locality
Little Hallowell, not quite 6, was staying with the Coburns at some distance from home. In saying the Lord's prayer at night, as Mrs. Coburn was putting her to bed, she hissed: "Our Father who art in heaven, Coburn be Thy name." Some-what shocked, Mrs. Coburn said: "My poor, dear child, don't pray like that. Pray the same as you would at home."

"At home I always say: 'Hallowell be Thy name,'" said the child.
